

Digital Needs An Answer At Spring Meeting

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Unless the selectmen insert two articles in the warrant for the upcoming annual town meeting, Digital Equipment Corp. will cancel its plans to build a third plant in Andover on a 52-acre Frontage Road parcel.

The company could privately insert the articles — requesting rezoning of the land and an exemption from the town's master sewer plan — but will not do so, a Digital representative told the selectmen and Planning Board Monday night.

"Without the support of town boards, we shall not fight our way in," William Krasnow, manager of Digital's real estate acquisitions department, told the board. "We go where communities want us — we don't fight our way in, and we don't intend to fight our way into Andover."

He added that Digital will not wait for next year's town meeting: "If we are unable to get these articles on the warrant this May, I do not believe we can wait an additional year for the next go-round."

The selectmen took no position on Digital's plans, which were first presented to them two weeks ago, but asked for further information and a legal opinion from town counsel on deviating from the sewer plan. The board has an April 13 deadline for inserting articles onto the town warrant. Town meeting authorization is required before the land can be rezoned, or the master sewer plan violated.

Digital is currently completing the 2,400-square foot Polaroid building on a 37-acre parcel in West Andover's Industrial Tech Park. Preliminary plans are also underway for developing an additional 123-acre parcel in Tech Park with two 300,000-square foot buildings.

If the Frontage Road site is developed, the company would own buildings totalling 1.24 million square feet in town, and employ 2,500 to 3,500 people.

The company's newest plans call for building a multi-million dollar plant on the Frontage Road property, part of a 141-acre site now zoned for residential use and owned by Yvon Cormier of Andover-Cormier, Inc. The plant would total 400,000 square feet, and would house manufacturing facilities, offices and a warehouse for Digital's field service manufacturing organization.

School Closing Decision Could Come Tuesday Night

By Linda S. Corbett

The closing of another elementary school could come Tuesday night.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said this week he didn't know if the school committee will actually get to a vote Tuesday, but that the committee does want to "move expeditiously" on the matter. A closing will likely top the agenda in any case, because it holds so many implications for other areas of next year's budget.

Also on the docket for the public session at 7:30 p.m. in the West Elementary School Auditorium, will be transportation — including a proposal to change current contractual agreements with the bus drivers — and school calendar options for next year.

Seifert said the school committee and administration have been trying to "cover every base" in terms of a school closing and that they have been examining a lot of "variations on the themes" already presented: namely the closing of Shawsheen, South, or the Traditional, or a Shawsheen-Traditional or South-Traditional combination.

Seifert said yesterday he has not heard from many parents on the subject of a closing; in fact, he said, he finds the "quietness" somewhat "disconcerting." He said he doesn't know if a lot of people are resigned to the changes, or if it's a matter of apathy.

North Andover Artist Mary Kifner

Open House Sunday

The public is invited to an Open House and Art Exhibit in celebration of National Library Week on Sunday, April 5, from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library, Andover.

The library's artists of the month who will be present and displaying their work are: Laurel Campbell of Boston, John Fabiani of Andover, Mary Kifner of North Andover, Donald Norris of Melrose, Susan Paulinca of Methuen, Marily Pratt of Wilbraham, Terry Romano of Lawrence, Phila Slade of North Andover, Cory Staid of Andover, Robert Sweeny of Lawrence, Jane Trumbore of Andover and E.F. Weisnitz of W. Boxford.

Some of the art work, which includes oils, watercolors, pen and ink, weaving and collages, will be for sale. In addition, the library's extensive collection of original art, available for loan to patrons, will be displayed. Cory Staid and several of her art students will demonstrate their painting techniques during the afternoon reception.

Refreshments will be provided and served by the Friends of the Library.

Aluminum Drive set For May

The next Andover Recycling aluminum drive will be held at Doherty School on Bartlet Street, Andover, on Saturday, May 2, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. All kinds of pure aluminum articles are accepted, but especially with beer and soft drink cans, donors are urged to test with a magnet (a toy or refrigerator magnet will do) to be sure they are pure aluminum. A can with steel content will stick to a magnet, whereas a pure aluminum can will not. Some beverage canners use cans of both materials, and appearances are deceiving, so the magnet test is necessary.

Other articles that may be made of pure aluminum are frozen dinner trays, some kitchen utensils, gutters and downspouts, pie plates, and used foil. Our recycling volunteers ask that they be reasonably clean to avoid attracting animals while they are being stored.

Most quails are monogamous.

School Bonds Are Awarded

The first bond anticipation notes for the $11.72 million school building program have been awarded, and were signed by the selectmen Monday night at town hall.

The notes, totalling $100,000, are expected to carry the building program through awarding of the construction contract in early June, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

The manager noted that the town was able to obtain a 6.46 percent interest rate on the bond anticipation notes, which he called "quite good."

The bond anticipation notes, which must be repaid in two or three years, are a temporary method of financing the three-part school project.

The town will sell bonds for permanent financing this summer, in 10-, 15- or 20-year issues.

Mrs. Gammon Elected Chairman

Selectman Norma Gammon was elected chairman of the board Monday night, during the reorganization of the board that followed last week's election of new member Donn B. Byrne.

Jerry Silverman was voted vice chairman of the board; he will chair the board in Gammon's absence, or when a conflict of interest arises.

Selectman Edward Harris, a former chairman of the board, was elected secretary.

Utility Permits Granted

The board of selectmen Monday night granted the Bay State Gas Company permission to excavate in School and Elm Streets to replace gas services. The selectmen stipulated that the work must be performed to the satisfaction of the Public Works director.

In addition, sitting as sewer commissioners, the selectmen granted Phoebe Carter of 92 High Plain Road permission to connect to the sewer main. That request had been previously approved by the Board of Health and the town manager.

The work is to be done to the satisfaction of both the Board of Health and the Public Works director.

Bike-A-Thon Approved

A two-mile bike-a-thon for the benefit of St. Jude's Research Hospital will be held in Andover on Saturday, May 19, with the selectmen's approval.

The course will begin at 10 a.m. at the parking lot of St. Robert's Church, Haggett's Pond Road, and finish in the same place.

The selectmen approved plans for the bike-a-thon Monday night, after Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark recommended approval. The board stipulated that arrangement for the event must be made with the police chief.

15 Drawn For Jury Duty

The following 15 residents were drawn for jury duty by the selectmen Monday night: Ann M. Krochmal, 9 Carriage Hill Road; Richard W. Coombes, 110 Cross St.; Timothy P. Lenes, 3 Hackney Circle; William R. Thomas, Jr., 9 Rocky Hill Road; Carol B. Higgins, 23 Brechin Terrace; Sandra Young, 96 Argilla Road; Joseph B.

Hinckley, 43 Elm St.; Anne M. Reilly, 6 Olympia Way; Richard A. Pereira, 95 High St.; Mark Budd, 74 Memorial Circle; Christine C. DeAngelis, 105 Cross St.; Walter F. Stafford III, 60 Bartlet St.; Judith Spear, 60 Colonial Drive, Apt. 1; John F. Ahern, 6 Oriole Drive; and Gloria A. Schiller, 15 Rennie Drive.

Historians To Exhibit Artifacts

From Sunday, April 5, through the summer, the Andover Historical Society will feature "Happy Birthday to Us," an exciting exhibition of artifacts collected through the 70 years since its founding in 1911.

Seventy years of gathering local artifacts has created a museum collection of great variety. Generous donations of furniture, books, dolls, tools, costumes and much more supply intriguing information about local history. In 1915 the society began recording its earliest collections. Among these were a Staffordshire pitcher, an 1838 map of Massachusetts, a watercolor on pith paper, Chinese folk art of the 1850's. Among the most recent additions to the collection are items from the Locke-Thomson-Castle family including a lovely circa 1900 wedding gown.

Also on display is the Bicentennial quilt beautifully made by Andover women in 1976, and a cupboard full of "Guess What It Is" items. Posters of bygone events decorate the walls.

The exhibit is open Sundays and Wednesdays, 2-4 p.m., or by appointment at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St.

Comedy

The three act comedy "The secret affairs of Mildred Wild," will be presented by the Merrimack College drama club on April 2, 3, 4, 9, and 11, at 8 p.m. in the McQuade Library auditorium.

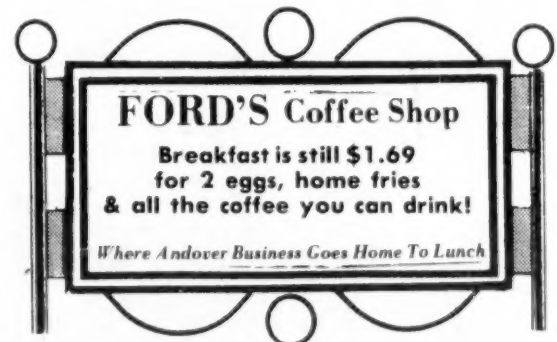

The spring production is being directed by Bill Brooks, a professional director and owner of the Amesbury Playhouse.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the college's student activities office or at the door the nights of the performance.

PWP Meeting

Parents Without Partners (PWP), Merrimack Valley Chapter 136, will hold a Newcomers meeting, Wednesday, April 8, at 8 p.m. at the North Andover VFW, Chickering Road at Park Street.

San Marino, a country surrounded by Italy, is said to be the world's oldest and smallest republic.

GRAND OPENING TOMORROW 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

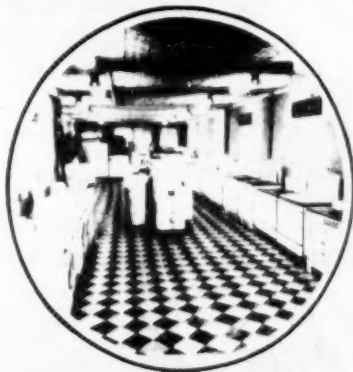

Mr. Leone's first store, 568 Essex St., where he shared space with jeweler Saul Gordon in 1931.

Frank J. Leone, Sr., Company Founder.

5 story building, 430 Essex St., early 1940's.

Major appliance department, 430 Essex St., about 1944.

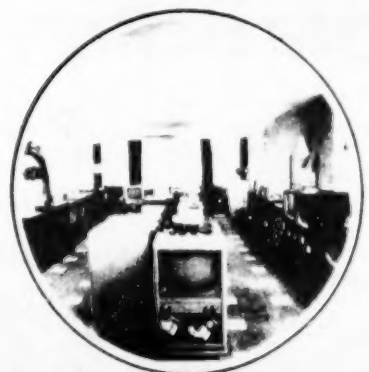

Mr. Frank Leone Sr. now in his 75th year, started the firm F.J. Leone Co. as an appliance store in 1931 a year of dark depression when many established retailers were going bankrupt. Right from the first he aligned himself with name brands, featuring Frigidaire and Magnavox, and becoming the first Maytag dealer in Massachusetts. When television came along, he obtained the Dumont franchise and was the first to offer TV sets in the Greater Lawrence area.

His hard work and foresight brought success and the store was enlarged several times, finally occupying a five-story building at 430 Essex Street, downtown Lawrence and expanding into the home furnishings field.

In 1965, the firm purchased the former International Mills building at 225 Broadway, Methuen, and after extensive remodeling Leone's entered its present home. Appliances were now phased out, and the operation was on its way to becoming one of the leading furniture stores in Northern New England.

Leone's has consistently expanded its customer base from the Greater Lawrence Merrimack Valley and Southern New Hampshire areas to the entire Greater Boston markets and beyond. What makes people from as far as 100 miles travel to Leone's is the consistent top quality merchandise, professional sales force, tasteful displays, competitive pricing and an organization committed to customer service before, during and after the sale.

Pennsylvania House, one of the country's leading furniture manufacturers, recognized this fact and selected Leone's to display its Collector's Gallery for this entire region of fine American Traditional home furnishings. The opening of this new 30 plus room gallery is the kick off event in a year long celebration and promotional events in honor of Leone's 50th Anniversary in business. Be sure to visit our new Gallery Grand Opening beginning this Friday, April 3, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and continuing all day Saturday. The Leone family and staff would like to meet you personally and have the opportunity to show you this new addition to the Methuen store.

ABC Phonathon

Theda Logan, 25 Marilyn Road, dials away during last week's four-night phonathon to benefit the ABC (A Better Chance) program of Andover. Nearly 50 volunteers made some 1,000 calls from the Andover Savings Bank. One of ABC's major fundraisers, the event was organized by Co-Chairmen Pam Mitchell and Nancy Jones.

Barbershop Singers Are Needed

The local Barbershop Quartet Society is seeking men who like to sing. No experience is necessary to learn four part harmony barbershop style. The Greater Lawrence Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America meets each Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, 57 River Road, Andover.

The chapter, a non-profit organization, is comprised of the Townsman Barbershop Chorus, as well as several Barbershop Quartets. Visitors are welcome and admission is free. For additional information, call chapter president Tom Keenan in Reading.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

Whether you are obese or not still depends on the relationship between the amount of food you eat and the energy you use. Actually, the major factors are not hormones or heredity, but physical activity. For the control of food intake to work normally, there must be a certain amount of activity. If you are more active, then you eat more, but if you are less active, you usually don't eat less. It has been discovered that physical exercise actually tends to decrease the appetite.

A short period of exercise or a brisk walk before a meal will help reduce the appetite. A program of regular exercise is recommended. Diet Center Program includes good nutrition, exercise, and behavior modification. Our counselors support you through every phase to a successful and permanent weight loss.

McKie Exhibit At Gallery

An exhibition of sculptured furniture by Judy Kensley McKie and paintings and prints by Todd McKie opens at the Addison Gallery on Friday, April 3, at 7 p.m. The two Boston artists whose work has been shown across the United States are exhibiting together for the first time. Although each artist has a separate and distinct point of view, a common thread in the work of both is the capacity to make formally innovative serious art which, in terms of content, is smartly humorous.

Todd McKie's paintings extend the notion that subject matter issues are continuously and inexhaustibly provided by the grist of virtually any human activity. One series of paintings is based on the visual archetype of art journal covers; "Studio Safety," a watercolor, lampoons the bumbling artist/craftsman and "Color Abstraction" in which the artist has drawn a death's head on an original poster for an exhibit of abstract painting at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, ironically comments on the value of abstraction. Working largely in impeccably laid-down watercolor and with a sophisticated analytic awareness of a variety of art historical points of view, McKie delights in fine tuning formal issues in conjunction with offbeat themes and subjects to make the familiar decidedly new. Todd McKie's work is exhibited through the courtesy of Aquavella Fine Arts, New York City.

Judy McKie combines the pragmatism of a furniture-maker with exotic sculptural instincts. She extracts the essences of animal forms and integrates them with a formal vocabulary of furniture-making to produce a composite of furniture/sculpture. The titles of her pieces reveal a sense of humor sympathetic to that of her husband. "Sly Rocker" sways on smiling snake rockers. Stylized birds and dogs support elegant glass-topped tables. Carved panels function both as relief sculpture and simultaneously as the sides of the chest they adorn. Wood, finished naturally or painted, is the vehicle for most of her works. Working out of the Cambridgeport Cooperative Wood Shop, Judy McKie has exhibited her work at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts, New York City, and is represented in many private collections.

The exhibition continues through April 26.

The Addison Gallery is open, free, to the public. Gallery hours are: Tuesday - Saturday from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sundays, 2:30 - 5 p.m. (closed Mondays).

Hospital Blood Bank Accredited

Lawrence General Hospital (LGH) has been awarded a two-year accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks ((AABB). The hospital was first accredited in 1968.

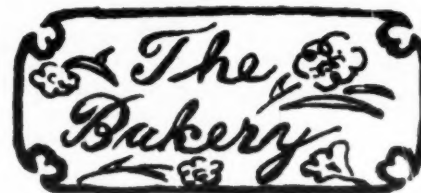

Accreditation follows an intensive on-site inspection by specially trained representatives of the association, and establishes that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the AABB's standards.

The largest drum in the world is the Disneyland Big Brass Drum with a diameter of 10 feet, six inches, and a weight of 450 pounds. It is mounted on wheels and towed by a tractor.

"The AABB's inspection and accreditation procedures are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a blood bank or transfusion service to be accredited, but like many others, our facility has sought accreditation because it represents a level of professional and medical expertise that meets and exceeds government regulations. The primary goal of the program is to assist facilities like ours to achieve excellence, and thus provide higher quality blood, blood products and service to patients," explained Alton W. Noyes, director of LGH.

Founded in 1947, the AABB is the only national organization in the United States devoted exclusively to blood banking and blood transfusion services. It has accredited more than 2,000 facilities nationwide.

'Copper Kettle'

Andover Artist's Work In Reading Auction

"Copper Kettle," a watercolor painting by Bette Wasserboehr of Andover, will be one of the many works of art, along with other Andover, N. Andover artists, to be auctioned at the Reading Art Association's Fine Art Auction to be held Wednesday, April 8, at 8 p.m. at the Community Center, 52 Sanborn St., Reading. Paintings are donated by the artist members. The funds raised by the auction assist the organization in educational and public service programs.

This year auctioneer Roger Curtis will sell oils, acrylics, graphics, watercolors and photographs. Preview of these works will be at the Community Center on Monday and Tuesday, April 6 and 7, 12 noon - 9 p.m. and on Wednesday, April 8, 12 noon - 8 p.m. A raffle of over $200 art equipment will be held, including a bonus door prize of a Ledu adjustable desk lamp. The public is invited.

Mrs. Wasserboehr's painting will be on display at M.F. Charles Stationary Store in Reading center until the auction date.

Forum Speaker

A national public radio star, Robert J. Lurtsema, will be the next guest speaker at the University of Lowell Foundation Forum Series. The program will be held at Liberty Hall in downtown Lowell on Tuesday evening, April 14, at 8 p.m.

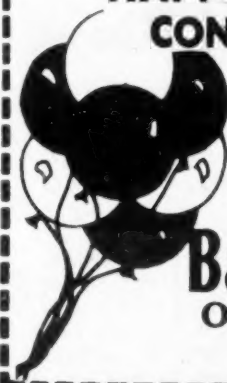

Lurtsema, host of WGBH's "Morning Pro Musica," at once informal and informative, is welcomed as a member of listeners' families. He is heard as a respected teacher by more than a half million listeners.

Bradford Concert At Organ Hall

The Bradford-Pentucket chorale, Charles W. Ludington, conductor, will present as the principal work of its annual spring concert, the Mass in C Major (Mass in Time of War) by Franz Joseph Haydn. One of the greatest of choral works, it will feature the full chorus, four distinguished soloists: Barbara Wallace, soprano; Jane Struss, mezzo-soprano; Mark Kagan, tenor; and James Maddalena, bass-baritone; plus chamber orchestra with Verena Dobnik, violinist, and Mark Peterson, organist. The program will also contain other organ and vocal works featuring Kenneth Grinnell on the organ.

The concert will take place Wednesday, April 22, at 8:30 p.m. at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Route 28, Methuen. It is being presented in memory of Jack Fisher, former member of the Bradford College Music faculty and well-known organist in the Boston and surrounding area.

A limited number of tickets at $3 is available in the Public Relations Office, Academy Hall. For further information, call Bradford College.

Andover Recyclers Urge Auction Contributions

Saturday, May 2, will be here before we know it, so it's none too soon to be clearing out those unwanted household items to give to the town's Eighth Annual Recycling Auction run by volunteers from Andover Recycling, Inc.

Ralph Sharpe, Jr. will again be the auctioneer, and in addition to the wide variety of interesting items auctioned off, there will be flea market tables filled with smaller treasures, and coffee, punch, doughnuts and hot dogs to keep everyone going in good spirits. If the weather is good, everything will take place outside on the grounds of Doherty School, Bartlet St. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., a change in the hours announced last week.

The most important part of the auction right now, however, is to bring in all the unwanted items in good condition that townspeople and friends of recycling can donate. Appliances of all sizes, radios, stereos, television sets, bikes, tools, toys, furniture, and almost anything usable except clothing and books is most welcome. Donated items may be brought to Doherty School any weekday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Look for Saturday and evening receiving hours in a future issue of the Townsman. For pick-up of large items, call the town hall recycling number or Mrs. James Beattie or Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck. This year's Recycling Auction takes place before Clean-Up Week, giving residents an excellent opportunity to give away unwanted household goods early the easy way.

Heart Of Hub

The Heart of the Hub walking tours meet Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10, and Sundays at 2 p.m., on the rear plaza of 60 State St., near "Where's Boston." Fee is $3.

People wishing to set up their own flea market tables may make arrangements through Mrs. Beattie and Mrs. Hollenbeck. The space rental fee is $10.

Finalist

Laura W. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, 4 Applecrest Road, Andover, has been selected as a finalist in the Presidential Scholars program which annually identifies distinguished and accomplished graduating seniors in the nation. Principal Philip F. Wormwood, left and William J. Igoe of the guidance department, join in congratulating the Andover High senior who received her certificate this past week.

Peer Counseling Open House

The Andover Peer Counseling Project will be sponsoring an Open House on Thursday, April 2, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Andover High School Large Group Room.

This event will allow parents, teachers, school administrators and the entire Andover community to meet the staff, peer counselors and trainees of the program. Literature, training materials, and other information pertaining to the Peer Counseling Project will be distributed.

There will also be information desks for all of the various programs including the Elementary and Junior High School Divorce Groups, the Big Brothers' Big Sister Program, Fifth and Sixth Grade Peer Pressure Groups (Cross-Age Teaching Program), Evening Parent-Teen Educational Programs, the High School Drop-In Center, and Growth Experience Training. There will be ample opportunity to have questions answered as well as to share concerns and suggestions. Refreshments will be served.

Ends Term

Andover resident Sharon Lebowitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lebowitz of 122 Argilla Road, and a junior at Maine's Bates College, is completing her term as a member of the Student Committee on Conference with the Trustees

The committee was formed to maintain open communication between the students and governing body of the college. It meets twice a year, at the board's semi-annual meetings in June and January.

Lebowitz is a 1978 graduate of Andover High School.

The greatest claimed attendance for a single musical performance was 600,000 for a rock festival at Watkins Glen, N.Y., on July 29, 1973.

East Junior High Happenings

By Karen Kulig and Dani D'Appolito

Congratulations to East's Math Team that has been doing so well these past weeks. In the New England Math Competition, Robert Hoyt, Patrick Fleming, Diana Hulsey, Susan Sofia, Kristen Harol, Maureen O'Brien, Jeff Vogel, Hilary Feier, Chris Liou and Ross Shank were high scorers.

Patrick Belming, Peter Devney, Filloyd Greenwood, Donna Russell, Dawn Aikman, Joanne Saalfrank, Kevin Flynn, Alex Niedzwieki, Buffy Katz, Carolyn Suozzo, Jenni Stratton, Ann Marie Murphy, Cheryl Scammell, Mark Pierrat, Kathy Koh and Sue Lutz.

Last week the eighth and ninth graders attended a performance of "Don Quixote." Everyone enjoyed the play which was performed by the Gilding Playhouse Company. The seventh graders attended a concert presented by all the musical groups here at East including the G-Clets, ninth grade chorus and the band.

The softball and baseball season has come to East Junior High. Tryouts started last week. The softball team is being coached by Gary Hendrickson and the baseball team by Ted Boudreau. The gymnastic teams, coached by Kenneth Maglio, have been practicing and will soon be in competition with other schools.

WESTern Roundup

By Mary Driscoll and Kathy Mulvey

The Annual West Junior High Awards Assemblies were held on Wednesday, March 25. At this time special awards were given to students who participated in such events as the Math League, Jump-A-Thon for the Heart Fund, and the English Composition Competition on Vandalism.

The second term Western Stars received their special t-shirts and all Western Stars and high honor students were recognized.

The West Side Singers and recorder players entertained the enthusiastic audiences.

The Valley Forge Military Academy Glee Club visited West Junior High on Tuesday, March 24, on their tour through New England. Their performance included a variety of music which was enjoyed by all students. A special Westy Award was given to the glee club to extend our appreciation to the singers for sharing their talents with us.

Aid For Atlanta

Under the direction of the Student Advisory Council (SAC), Andover High school students recently contributed to the fund to aid the families of the slain children in Atlanta. SAC members sold green ribbons which are being worn by the students. The $60 received from the sale has been forwarded to the Merrimack Valley chapter of the NAACP for forwarding to Atlanta. Here, Carole Balin and Lauren Whitley present the check to Principal Philip F. Wormwood for forwarding.

'Bye Bye Birdie'

The Central Catholic Theatre Guild, now in its tenth season, will present its spring musical, "Bye Bye Birdie," on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 9, 10, 11, and 12. The play will be staged in the Alan B. Rogers Memorial Theatre at Central Catholic High School; curtain time is 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available through any Central student or at the door.

First produced on Broadway in 1960, "Bye Bye Birdie" started Chita Rivera and Dick Van Dyke in a story of an Elvis Presley style singer named Conrad Birdie who is about to be inducted into the Army. Michael Stewart wrote the book for "Bye Bye Birdie" and the music and lyrics were composed by Charles Strause and Lee Adams, including such favorites as "Kids," "Put on a Happy Face," and "A Lot of Livin' to Do."

Theatre Group To Perform

On Tuesday, April 7, The Loon and Heron Theatre will give performances of their production titled "Sea Chanties" at 9:15 a.m. at East Junior High Auditorium and at 10:30 a.m. at West Junior High Auditorium.

This musical program breathes life into the strong oral traditions which gave rise to the 17th and 18th century folklore and folk music of the sea.

Performed cabaret style, "Sea Chanties" presents a selection of the work songs commonly sung by North and South American sailors and fishermen. The chanties are enhanced by lively choreography and accompanied on pipes, banjo, fiddle and guitar. Woven through the program is a discussion of the historical and social context which shaped the colorful material underlying these songs.

Parents of students who attend these performances are invited to attend also.

These performances are sponsored by the Demoulas Foundation, the Macartney Company of Andover and the Academy Nursing Home.

Student's Composition Is Featured

Tom O'Dell of Andover, a senior at Governor Dummer Academy, took part in two winter productions at the academy. During the music department's "Valentines Eve Concert of Concerts," O'Dell's electronic composition, "Voices," was featured. The "musique concrete" composition was comprised of only vocally produced sounds which were altered, using the technique of tape manipulation. The piece was realized in GDA's electronic music studio.

O'Dell was also a guitarist in the "Black Diamond" rock group that performed at the Student-Faculty Talent Show at GDA.

Keeping Andover Clean

Volunteers young and old came out to help AMC and AVIS clean up the boulders near the Andover railroad last Saturday morning. The clean up involved picking up trash, cutting dead branches, and clearing dead leaves and brush. It was the perfect day for a spring clean up. Photos clockwise from upper left: Three year olds Bobby Kelley, 10 Ridge St., and Chris Mills, Main St., fill their garbage bags with trash; Reservation Warden Adolf Buczynski, 21 Linda Road, saws off a dead branch; Checking out the amount they've collected are Justin Milovanovic, 2 1/2 Ridge St., and Justin Connors, School St.; West Jr. High students Gail Burke, 10 Alonese Way, and Lisa Froberg, 92 Tewksbury St., use gloves to protect their hands from broken glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Kling, Jr.

Kling — Mellett

At home in Seabrook, New Hampshire, are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Charles Kling, Jr., who were married February 14 in West Parish Church, Andover.

The bride is the former Deborah Jane Mellett, daughter of Mr. Harry Winthrop Mellett, Jr., 285 Lowell St., Andover, and the late Mrs. Mellett.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Charles Kling of Boxford.

The Rev. Dean Roth of Fulton, New York, officiated at the 11 a.m. church ceremony. Frederick Lee sang the John Denver song, "Follow Me," before the wedding. Kimberly Kriebel of Peabody was the candle lighter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of quiana with a Queen Anne neckline, long tapered sleeves and a pleated, watteau chapel train. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap with a finger-tip illusion veil attached.

She carried a silk Valentine bouquet of white azaleas, pink tea roses and burgundy baby's breath.

Deedie Kriebel of Peabody attended as matron of honor, wearing a pleated empire gown in burgundy quiana, with a chiffon cape. She carried a silk bouquet of Dafney rose-colored azaleas with smaller burgundy flowers and burgundy baby's breath, with a pink tea rose.

Bridesmaids included Dorothy Mellett of Andover, Anne Mellett of Westville, N.H., and Marjorie Nickerson of Franklin, N.H.

Mrs. Mellett chose a two-tone beige chiffon gown for her step daughter's wedding, with a silk corsage of Dafney rose colored azaleas, while the groom's mother wore a two-tone blue chiffon gown and a silk corsage of white azaleas.

Harry Charles Kling was his son's best man, and ushers included Charles Kriebel of Peabody, Robert Mellett of Westville, N.H., and Thomas Lucas of Beverly.

Eric Kriebel of Peabody was ringbearer.

The new Mrs. Kling graduated from Andover High School and from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She teaches school in Amesbury.

Her husband, a graduate of Masconomet High School in Boxford, attended Northern Essex Community College. He is a design engineer for Butler Aviation.

The couple took a skiing honeymoon in Switzerland.

August Wedding Planned

Mrs. Katherine Moss Hussey, 27 Westwind Road, Andover, announces the engagement of her daughter, Carol Ann, to John Robert Mulachy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sumner Mulcahy, 17 Puritan Road, Watertown.

Moss, daughter also of the late Edward S. Moss, graduated from Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, Wakefield, and St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N.H., with a BA degree in political science. She is a staff assistant in the Massachusetts office of U.S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

Her fiancé graduated from Catholic Memorial High School, West Roxbury, and St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N.H., with a BA in business administration. He is a sales representative with Thypin Steel Company in Cambridge.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Sheehan To Be Married

Mrs. Emma V. Sheehan, 6 Memorial Circle, Andover, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Eileen, to John P. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Carroll of East Longmeadow.

The prospective bride is the daughter also of the late Mr. Edward J. Sheehan.

She is a graduate of Andover High School and expects to receive her bachelor's degree in gerontology from the University of Massachusetts in May.

Her fiancé, a graduate of East Longmeadow High School and the University of Massachusetts, with a B.S. degree in wildlife biology, is currently enrolled in the master's program in wildlife ecology at Eastern Kentucky University.

They plan to be married June 6.

Membership Tea Planned

The American Association of University Women will hold a membership tea on Thursday, April 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Edith Emery, 59 Chandler St., Bradford.

Fashion Show Is Planned

The Daughters of Vartan, Merrimack Valley, will present "Fantasy of Fashions" on Sunday, April 5, at 2:30 p.m. in the Citizens's Center, Welcome Street, Haverhill. Prior to the fashion show, wine and cheese will be served. After the fashions are shown, desserts and coffee will be offered.

Members of the fashion show committee include: Elizabeth A. Kochakian, matron; Alice Basmajian and Rose DerBogorian, co-chairmen; Sylvia Tavitian, Alice Kasparian, Grace Gulezian and Janet Ananian. Reservations may be made by calling Elizabeth A. Kochakian.

AAUW is the oldest women's organization in the country, having begun in Boston in 1881. The 100-year birthday celebration will be held in Boston in June, when 3,500 women from across the country will attend the association convention. The Andover-Georgetown Branch AAUW is open to women from all surrounding cities and towns. AAUW's goals are the advancement of women, the intellectual growth of women and to enable women to discharge their special responsibilities to society.

A book study group is an ongoing branch activity and monthly programs concerning a variety of topics are held, many being open to the public.

The program in April will be on women's health. Dr. Swadesh Mullick, gynecologist from Salem, N.H., will be the speaker and will speak to the concerns of those attending. The meeting is on

Auction, Sale Is Saturday

Members of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club are busy preparing for the Benefit Auction and Sale to be held this Saturday, April 4, at 10 a.m. at the West Parish Church. Proceeds from this club project, open to the public, will go toward providing scholarships for students in the area.

There will be a wide variety of interesting, donated items for sale, many provided by local merchants. A snack bar featuring light refreshments will be available during the day.

Mrs. David R. Beckerman and Mrs. Andrew M. Innes are in charge and are being assisted by many members.

Newcomers To Have Luncheon

On Tuesday, April 14, the Andover-North Andover Newcomers Club will sponsor a buffet luncheon.

Beginning at 12 noon, at the Christ Church, Andover, a Consumer Relations representative of Purity Supreme will speak about nutrition and budgeting food dollars wisely, during the serving of each course. Included in the luncheon are appetizers, main dish, salad, vegetable, bread and dessert. An added bonus is the distribution of coupons and recipes. At the conclusion, a sample of each nonperishable food item will be raffled off, as well as a clock radio.

New and old Newcomers and their guests are invited to attend.

Reservations must be made with Harriet Guarnera, North Andover, in order to attend; the deadline is April 7. Also contact her to volunteer as Newcomers is in need of many volunteers.

CELLOPHANES — ALL ABOUT THEM

They look as good as the name. Each shade envelopes the hair in a clear colored brilliance. They brighten, light up, add excitement even to the duller hair, and cellophanes leave the hair not only with great color but also in great condition. Cellophanes offer the professional complete control & creativity. You can vary the intensity, make the gentlest highlights, the boldest color changes. The heat activated formula contains no peroxide and it needs no peroxide or developer. In fact cellophanes are so safe you can even permanent wave right over them. They are the coloring you would expect to find at the end of their rainbow.

Film On Europe To Be Shown

Charlie Allen of Barre will present his color motion picture, "European Holiday," at the April 6 meeting of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club to be held at the Andover Country Club at 8 p.m.

In this film one will get a glimpse of Lisbon before entering Europe at Malaga on Spain's Costa del Sol — then Madrid — see "Snowflake" in the Barcelona Zoo — on to Milan with her cathedral — Venice with her gondolas, and her leaning tower — Taormina and Mount Etna in Sicily — Rome with Pope Paul VI addressing the throngs in St. Peter's Square — through the Swiss Alps and along the Rhine to Holland in tulip time — Brussels with her most illustrious citizen, Manneken Pis, and Paris with a glimpse of the Folies Bergere.

Charlie Allen, though still active in the business world, has, with his wife, Gladys, traveled extensively, making films in Great Britain, Europe, South America, North America, and many films in Africa. Making eight trips to the Continent of Africa aroused such a sincere interest in the wild life conservation efforts of the Nairobi-based East African Wild Life Society, that the Allens give to that organization all fees and extra donations resulting

Barn Sale At Grange

North Andover Grange is preparing for its annual "Barn Sale" to be held at the Grange Hall, Olde Center, Saturday, April 11, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., rain or shine.

A barn sale is an indoor flea market or mini-fair. Bakery, handiwork, small furniture, and miscellaneous flea market items will be offered for sale.

The plant table will feature an array of fresh plants and flowers, just in time for Easter.

Ellen Hayes is the chairman. The membership is presently being contacted and donations of old and new items, baked goods, handicrafts and plants would be appreciated. Contact the chairman to make arrangements for the committee to pick up any donations that can't be delivered to the hall.

A snack bar will be in operation throughout the day. Admission is free, and the public is invited to attend.

Mother And Daughter Banquet

The Mother and Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the Women Evening Circle of West Parish Church, will be held on Thursday, April 9, at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. This evening of fun is open to all women of the church. Entertainment will be provided by the Stage Door Gymnastic School.

Tickets for the banquet can be purchased at the coffee hour on Sunday, April 5, and are also available at the church office. Deadline for reservations is April 6.

Hostesses for the banquet will be Ellen Harmoning and Eda Warwick, co-chairmen, with Florence Anderson, June Fitzgerald, Joyce Tucker, and Jan Schroeder.

Carroll Center Visited

Promoting public awareness of the need for independence for the Commonwealth's blind citizens will be a goal of the members of Preceptor Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority following a recent visit to the Carroll Center for the blind in Newton.

The sorority women from Andover and North Andover toured the facility and learned of the tremendous strides being made there in assisting the blind of all ages to live independently in a sighted world. Tour guide for the evening was Cynthia Hyslip, a current resident of the Carroll Center and daughter of Preceptor Zeta president, Mrs. Robert Pelrine.

Following dinner at a Boston restaurant, the group met for a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Seikunas, 21 Gould Road, Andover, who arranged the tour in her role as vice president and program chairman.

Coverlet Exhibit

The Lowell Museum is presenting an exhibition of 19th Century American Coverlets through the month of April. This display of wool and cotton bed coverups is made up of examples from local private collections, including the Garrison House of Chelmsford, and covers a period from the 1820's to the 1870's.

A major focus is the various types of weaving techniques used to produce the coverlets including summer/winter, overshot and the jacquard. While the first two styles were made in the home, the third, named after its French inventor Joseph

Jacquard, was brought to the U.S. in 1820 and required the skill of a professional weaver. The products of the Jacquard loom were usually marked in the corner, giving the name of the weaver or the name of the owner the date and place made.

Completes Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Judi E. Whitton, daughter of Janice W. Henderson of 49-11 Lupine Road, Andover, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1975 graduate of Andover High School, Whitton joined the Navy in October 1980.

LOSE A LITTLE OF YOURSELF AT GLORIA'S. WITH ROSE, MINNIE, CAROL & ANN.

I'm at Angela's Gloria Stevens every morning before some of my friends are even awake. I don't really have a weight problem. But it keeps me in shape, makes me feel really good. And it's a great way to start the day.

Rose K

I wouldn't miss a day at Angela's place, even when I was working. Now I'm there every morning to work out. I feel like I belong. Ask Minnie's husband "It's the best thing she's ever done. And now she's back to the size she was when we got married 30 years ago. Not bad for a grandmother!"

Minnie K

I've been coming to Gloria Stevens for more than a year. I really enjoy the people at Angela's place. And I like myself better, too, because I have more energy. Every one around me is happier. That's nice.

Carol L

I lost 30 pounds in four months. Now I come to Gloria Stevens to exercise almost every day. But at Angela's place, it's not all hard work. I feel like there's a big cheering section here to give me support and keep me in shape.

The Lexington Christian Academy Chorale

Chorale To Appear Sunday

The Lexington Christian Academy Chorale, under the direction of Mrs. Priscilla Walsh, will appear at two local churches on Sunday.

The group will present a musical program at the 10:30 a.m. worship service at Free Christian church and will present a concert at the Andover Bible Chapel, 266 Lowell St., Andover, Sunday at 6 p.m.

The chorale consists of 43 members from the academy in Lexington which was founded in Boston in 1946. Currently the academy has an enrollment of 242 students in grades seven through 12.

The chorale travels each spring through the northeast, presenting a program of sacred, secular and contemporary music.

The New Life Singers are a select group of ten singers from the chorale who are chosen on the basis of vocal proficiency and Christian commitment. Their ministry is to share the truth of the Bible in song throughout the school year.

Both Andover performances are open to the public.

To Present Vivaldi's "Gloria"

The South Church Sanctuary Choir will join with members of the Danvers High School "Singers Unlimited," under the direction of Barry Low, and the Andover High School "Madrigal Singers" to present "Gloria" by Antonio Vivaldi Sunday morning during the 10:30 worship hour.

Margaret Thomson, Anne Carter and Barbara Roulston will be featured soloists with an orchestra consisting of Florence Pearson, Robin Margeson, Susan Lloyd, Jeffrey Rossman, Bonnie Tai, William Thomas, Samuel Willis, Susan Mesler, and Anne Clough directed by Keith H. Gould.

The public is invited to attend.

To Address Lenten Service

The fifth service in the series of Sunday Evening Lenten Services at the Andover Baptist Church will begin at 6:30 p.m. this Sunday evening.

The evening's guest speaker will be Dr. Nigel Kerr who is presently professor of Church History and Missions at Gordon-Conwell Theological School.

Dr. Kerr is well known in the local community, having served as interim pastor for the Andover Baptist congregation from January to June 1961. Dr. Kerr will also participate in the Andover Baptist Palm Sunday Evening Baptismal Service with Rev. Reginald MacDonald.

U.S. government studies have shown that more than half of all auto trips are made by a single occupant, and four out of five auto trips are less than 10 miles.

Cartoonist To Speak At College

Pulitzer Prize winning Boston Globe cartoonist Paul Szep will open Northern Essex Community College's Distinguished Lecturer Series Sunday, April 5, at the college in Haverhill. The occasion also marks the beginning of the college's 20th Anniversary Celebration.

While at The Globe, "Szep," as he is known to his thousands of readers, has won countless awards for his wit and bite. He twice received the coveted Pulitzer Prize, first in 1974 and again in 1977. He has also received two Sigma Delta Chi awards and one Headliner award. He was nominated as the Year's Outstanding Editorial Cartoonist by the National Cartoonists Society in 1977 and 1978. Szep won the prestigious Rubin Award for Editorial Cartooning from the society in 1979.

A native of Hamilton, Ontario, Szep began working as a sports cartoonist for the Hamilton Spectator at the age of 16. He graduated from the Ontario College of Art in 1964 and worked as a book and fashion illustrator and graphics designer both before and after graduation from art school. His background also includes five years of part-time work in Canadian steel mills. Prior to joining The Boston Globe in 1966, he was associated with the Financial Post in Toronto.

His cartoons are nationally and internationally syndicated by Universal Press. He has published seven books including "Warts and All."

The cartoonist will speak at 8 p.m. in the College Center. Tickets will be available at the door.

Whale Watches

The New England Aquarium will offer ten all-day whale watching trips from Boston this spring beginning in April. Knowledgeable aquarium guides will accompany each trip to provide information about whales, their markings, behaviors and feeding habits.

Whale watches are scheduled every weekend beginning Saturday, April 25, through Sunday, May 24, and an additional trip will be held Memorial Day, Monday, May 25.

Boats will leave from Long Wharf, adjacent to the aquarium and the MBTA Aquarium stop, promptly at 9 a.m., returning to Boston at 4:30 p.m., depending upon wind, waves, weather and whales.

Memorial Hall Library

National Library Week

In the past six weeks, chances are you had a need for tax information, a photocopy machine, a good joke, the correct spelling of a word or a vacation idea. You probably talked with your friends at work or asked your sister, and never once thought of consulting the place that could help you best—the library.

In books, films, tapes and records, the library has something for everyone. You, the small business owner, the investor, the do-it-yourselfer, the gothic novel junkie, support your habit in the library. This year librarians across the country are proclaiming, "America, the library has your number!"

Furthermore, you can't beat the library value. You can get more out of your tax dollar from the library than any other public institution. National Library Week (April 5-11) is the perfect time to visit the library and discover for yourself why Andover's greatest bargain is Memorial Hall Library.

Special events and displays will be featured all this coming week. An artists' exhibit and reception will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 5, from 3-4:30 p.m. The showing of the special Australian film "Walkabout" will complete the Foreign Film Series on Friday evening, April 10. Drop in and take advantage of the new book displays, the Staid art exhibit, a new guidebook to factory outlets and free coffee each morning in the main reading room during National Library Week.

The Gospel According To St. Matthew

The Italian feature, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew," will be the next film in the Foreign Film Series at Memorial Hall Library, on Friday, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. Pier Pasolini recreates the familiar gospel from the New Testament through the use of nonprofessional actors, realistic settings and semi-documentary style photography.

Children's Room News

By Bridget Bennett

A question that is often asked in the Children's Room, "How many books are in the children's library?" In celebration of National Library Week we are sponsoring a contest based on the theme, "We've Got Your Number—Have You Got Ours?

Children may pick up a contest sheet from the Children's Room designed to help discover the total number of books in our collection! MacDonald's of Andover has generously donated coupons for treats which will be awarded to the first 100 correct answers. The contest, which has been geared for children primarily in grade levels 3-6, will begin Saturday, April 4, and will extend until the following Saturday.

Also in honor of National Library Week and to highlight the extraordinary range of aesthetic and literary achievements made in the field of publishing for children, we are honored to display examples of books from the collections of David Rodger and Thomas Call, co-proprietors of Andover Antiquarian Books. This display will feature signed books by 20th century authors and will be on view April 2-11

Other forthcoming activities include Films-on-Friday on April 3, which will be "Magic Michael," "Six Penguins," and another in the series of animated films

OBITUARIES

Priscilla Stanley

Priscilla (Cutler) Stanley, 74, 61 Porter Road, Andover, a lifelong Andover resident, died Friday at Bon Secours Hospital, following a short illness.

Born in Andover, she was educated in Andover schools and was a graduate of Puncard High School and Childs School of Art, Boston. She also attended Wheeler College.

The widow of George A. Stanley, she is survived by a daughter, Georgia Stanley of Andover; a brother, Granville K. Cutler of Andover and a sister, Dorothy C. High of New Canaan, Conn.

Private funeral services under the direction of the Lane-Allen Funeral Home, 68 Park St., were held Monday. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to Bon Secours Hospital, or the charity of one's choice.

William I. Holden

William I. "Hoppy" Holden, 60, a retired employee of the Tyer Rubber Co., died Sunday at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Dundee, Scotland, Holden was a veteran of World War II, serving with the U.S. Army. He was a member of Free Christian Church and Andover Lodge of Elks.

He is survived by his wife, Irene E. (Mercier) Holden; a son, Thomas F. Holden of Lawrence, sisters, Mrs. Mary A. Smith of Andover and Mrs. Joanna H. Blair of Tewksbury and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Lung Association, 239 Newburyport Turnpike, Topsfield, MA 01983, or to the charity of one's choice.

Vine Hanson

Vina (Ouellette) Hanson, 86, formerly of Andover, died Sunday at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Franklin, N.H., she was educated in schools there. She attended St. Augustine's church and was a member of the Altar Guild and the Sacred Heart Sodality.

The widow of Charles A. Hanson, she is survived by sons, Henry of Florida, Joseph of Derry, N.H., Wilfred of Whittier, Calif., and Charles of Andover; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Rita) Webster of Hampton Beach, N.H., 12 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Lane-Allen Funeral Home, 68 Park St., Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Sarah A. Morris

Sarah A. (Darcy) Morris, 256 Main St., Andover, who was in charge of sales at A.B. Sutherland Co., for 20 years died Saturday at Lawrence General Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Lawrence, she had resided there for the greater part of her life until moving to Andover. She attended St. Augustine's church, Andover and was a member of the St. Clare League of Catholic Women.

The widow of Herbert L. Morris, she was the sister of the late Honorable John J. Darcy, a judge in the Lawrence District Court. She is survived by sisters, Mrs. Mary Leonard of Methuen and Mrs. Kathryn Beirne of Andover; two nieces, Mrs. William H. (Margaret C.) Hearne of Miami, Fla. and Mrs. Clare C. Cronin of Andover and a nephew, Daniel J. Leonard, Esq., of North Andover.

A Mass was offered Tuesday in St. Augustine's church. Burial was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Lawrence.

Births...

BRUSH — A daughter, Sophia Van Everen, March 24, at Martha's Vineyard hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. George Brush. The mother was Carol Dodd, the daughter of Rosalie V.E. Dodd and the late Bruce S. Dodd, of Andover. Maternal great-grandmother is Louise Van Everen, of Andover.

MANN — A daughter, Heidi Kristina, March 25, in Nashua, N.H., to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mann. The mother was Lois Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Sherman, 6 College Circle, Andover.

The first muskets produced at a government arsenal were made in 1795 at Springfield Armory, Mass. These muskets had to be reloaded by hand after each round of ammunition fired.

Auxiliary Planning Fashion Show

The Bon Secours Hospital Auxiliary extends an invitation to attend "A Touch of Elegance" by Saks Fifth Avenue, Wednesday, May 6, at the Indian Ridge Country Club, Andover.

Invitations in lilac and purple, with a picture of the Bon Secours Hospital's new look after the expansion of 1982, have been sent for the big fund raising event of the spring and summer season. All proceeds will benefit the building program.

The decor planned by Mary Troisi will carry out the lilac and purple theme. Bouquets of fresh flowers, combining the lovely soft shades of the lilacs to the deeper shades of the violets to the darkest purple of the cattleya orchids, will fill the room.

Viola Giannarakos and Doris McGovern are co-chairmen. Margaret Murphy, president of the auxiliary is honorary chairman. Joan Hatem, Alice O'Reilly, and Ruth Rokus are in charge of reservations.

Committee members include Mary Langigan, Iola Perry, Marie Eastwood, Isabel Killilea, Blanche Keefe, Mary Ann Rorke, Jean Oppel, Rita Sullivan, Ellen Farrington, Angie Mauceri, Ruth Land, Nancy Norbedo, Elaine Burke, Diane Scully, Connie Kaufman, Audry Goldstein, Jackie Pollard, Barbara Quinn, Pauline Kaplan, Agnes D'Urso, Joan Radermacher, Yvonne Mallen, and Judy Morrison; publicity, Lucy Jordan and Margaret Halmaier.

Hospice Program Explained

Second in a series of five articles outlining the proposed West Parish Church total care center, The Living Center.

T.L.C. III. The Living Center—learning, loving, living, campus proposed to be built on the land West Parish Church owns on Reservation Road will include a retirement center, Hospice, family resource center, day care program and university relationship program. Last week's article dealt with the retirement center, this week's will discuss the Hospice.

A Hospice is defined as a place of rest and shelter. Presently, a Hospice is known as a place of rest and shelter for the terminally ill. In many cases Hospices are not so much bricks and mortar but a concept or philosophy of caring for terminally ill people. The concept of Hospice is to provide palliative care and positive support for the patient and his or her family during the period of terminal illness. A major portion of this support comes from the belief that the quality of life for the terminally ill will be benefited by living out the final weeks and months of life in familiar surroundings in the presence of loved ones and not in the sterile, institutional atmosphere of a hos-

At T.L.C. III the Hospice program will begin as a focal point for the Hospice concept. The Hospice staff will be available to help patients and their families deal with the illness in their own homes through education and support from the staff. Close ties will be kept with the medical professionals who are involved in the case. As T.L.C. III develops, it is planned to include a section for live-in patients in a home-like setting where the person may bring cherished possessions and have loved ones nearby.

There are many Hospice programs springing up around the country including one now operating in the Merrimack Valley. It is very possible that the T.L.C. III Hospice center will become the central coordinating point for the Hospice concept in this area working closely with the area doctors, hospitals, and social service agencies.

Next week's article will focus on the family resource center portion of T.L.C. III. As the plans for T.L.C. III develop, please keep in mind the weekend of April 24-26 when West Parish Church and the campus architect, Brubaker Brandt, will be holding a Charette weekend, open to the public, as preliminary site layouts, building design and concepts will be taking place.

On Saving Shawsheen

From The Parents

To The School Committee

Approximately one year ago it was deemed necessary to close an elementary school in Andover. You, the Andover School Committee, decided to close Doherty Elementary School.

All those directly involved, the administration, the faculty, staff, students, and parents, were extremely concerned. Thanks to the dedication and compassion on the part of the Doherty staff, the students (and parents) were able to relocate to their new schools with positive feelings (eventually).

Forty-one of those former Doherty students were redistricted to the Shawsheen School. Both the students and parents were welcomed wholeheartedly into the Shawsheen family. Where the Doherty staff left off in its job of successfully relocating these 41 students, the Shawsheen staff continued the process.

Expressing Concern

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

As I read last week's Townsman's report on the School Committee meeting, I realized that it looked as if there was a lack of concern about a school closing on the part of the Shawsheen parents. Nothing could be further from the truth! We are deeply concerned not only about the possible closing of Shawsheen School, but also about the total effect of "2 1/2" on our school system.

At our PTO meeting on March 19, I asked Dr. Seifert what we could do immediately to help. He advised writing to the State Legislature in support of Representative Cohen's bill. This might be the one way to prevent the closing of any school.

This is what the Shawsheen parents have been doing! We have put all our efforts into trying to get help before it is too late.

We have also attended all the public meetings concerning possible budget cuts. The various school closing plans, and the merits of each, were thoroughly presented by Mr. Coyle and Mr. Normandy at a recent meeting. To me, there seemed to be no reason to comment further; no reason to pit school against school. I do not believe that is what the School Committee wanted when it asked for input from the parents.

We sympathize completely with the South School parents' feelings. We also feel that the closing of small neighborhood schools is a step in the wrong direction. Unless there is some relief though, our children will be the victims of the inflexibility of "2 1/2." I do not envy the task the School Committee is faced with. We trust that they will again do what is in the best interests of our children.

As parents, we must keep all lines of communication open. We are all in this together.

Anne Salamone
9 Carisbrooke St

again eliciting a positive attitude (in the long run).

Now, as these 41 students have successfully adjusted to their new academic environs, they face the distinct possibility of once again, for the second time in a year, being redistricted to another school. Although the Doherty parents did not receive a written guarantee, they were strongly assured that their children would not be redistricted again the following year.

Closing Shawsheen School would mean that these uprooted students will have attended three different schools in three years. An unfortunate example would be a kindergarten child starting at Doherty, redistricted to first grade at Shawsheen, and now, possibly, second grade at yet another school. Three different schools in his or her first three years of public education. Is this the stability we want for our children? What happened to our neighborhood school? What are the long term effects of all this relocating on our children?

No other school with redistricted Doherty students is being considered for closing. Whereas any other alternative might ultimately affect some of last year's redistricted students from Doherty, the closing of Shawsheen would most assuredly mean the relocation of all the redistricted Doherty students at Shawsheen.

We realize that, in the wake of Proposition 2 1/2 and declining enrollment, the Andover School Committee is forced to make budget cuts by closing an elementary school. We believe it is unrealistic to consider any school sacred. In the long run, everyone should be expected to give a little to provide what is best for all.

However, as former Doherty parents, we feel that (we and) our children have sacrificed, and we strongly oppose another redistricting for our children in their early years. We implore you to seek other alternatives rather than close the Shawsheen School (and involve our children in another traumatic move).

Jane Batchelder
17 Burton Farm Drive

This letter was signed by 34 parents in the Shawsheen area, whose names are in file on the Townsman office.

From The Staff

Open Letter To School Committee

We, the staff of the Shawsheen School, urge you to take the following points into consideration in making your decision about closing an elementary school in Andover.

I. Shawsheen is a neighborhood school in every sense of the word. When the village was being planned, the school was a major part of that design. The fact that the school is listed in the National Register of Historic Places indicates the importance of the school in the community. If the building is sold, where would the children of the neighborhood play after school and during the summer? The school has offered special opportunities for the entire neighborhood. An example of this is the Halloween party which eliminates the door to door trick or treating and provides entertainment for neighborhood children of all ages.

The children of the school are also close to community resources and take advantage of these resources. We feel the student body takes pride in its community by helping to maintain the grounds surrounding the school.

II. While the outside of the building continues to blend with the village atmosphere, the inside has kept up with the educational needs of its student body. Shawsheen provides flexible spacing for placement of children. This spacing provides for the children who need low structure as well as children who need high structure. We have also provided alternate groupings for children with different instructional needs in a combination class.

III. A number of children at Shawsheen School have been redistricted to this school from West and Doherty during the last three years. It could be quite an upsetting experience for these children to be forced to change their school building again. In several cases, a child will have attended Doherty, then Shawsheen, then a third different school within a three year period. Although we know how easily some children can adjust to new situations, is it fair to place such a burden on them again (some are only six or seven years old), when there could be an alternative provided by keeping Shawsheen School in operation?

IV. The Shawsheen School was renovated eight years ago to provide an attractive, flexible, and effective learning environment. The bond debt which was incurred at that time is still outstanding. The town of Andover will continue to pay this annual charge if the Shawsheen School is closed.

V. Miss Isabelle Dobbie is totally involved in every facet of her students' educational, social and emotional development. She takes a personal interest in each and every child in her building. This attitude fosters close relationships with Shawsheen families.

VI. Do the enrollment projections for the Shawsheen School take into account the 200-220 new homes proposed for the Andover Country Club area?

VII. If the two mile bus limit is enforced

80 percent of the Shawsheen children could safely walk to school on sidewalks. The cost of busing at Shawsheen would be significantly reduced.

VIII. The children of Shawsheen are involved in a swimming program that is funded by the parents. This program teaches life skills for all the children.

IX. The size of the school allows for programs to be piloted easily. The nutrition program, as well as the above mentioned swimming program, are good examples.

X. We are proud of the many compliments from visitors to our school and from observers of our groups traveling outside of the school. The compliments are in regard to the courteous, attentive audience behavior of our students.

XI. The professional attitude and dedication of the staff has enabled the Shawsheen community to withstand many years of threatened closings with no detriment to the student body.

Thank you for your consideration of these points.

AMC To Hike Doyle Land

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club is sponsoring a hike Sunday, April 5, on the Doyle Conservation Loop in Andover. Meet the leaders of the hike, Dot and Jim Christopher, at the entrance of the West Parish Cemetery (just beyond West Parish Church on Rte. 133) at 1:30 p.m. This is a leisurely walk suitable for young and old.

For more information, contact the Christophers, 16 Birch Road, Andover. Membership information is available from Lee Dodd, 30 Park St., Andover.

According to the Department of Commerce, some $150 billion was spent in 1978 on new plants and equipment by American business people.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day is an American phenomenon that began in 1907 when a young woman named Anna M. Jarvis instituted a letter-writing campaign to recognize mother on her special day. Woodrow Wilson made the first presidential Mother's Day proclamation in 1914.

Town To Join Regional Waste Plant

By Sue Aucella Deacon

With a vote of three to zero, the selectmen Monday night instructed the town manager to sign a 20-year contract with UOP, Inc., the firm that proposes to build a multi-million dollar regional solid waste disposal plant in North Andover.

That vote brought to an end more than ten years of study on the question of how Andover should deal with its solid wastes in the years ahead.

Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon, Edward Harris and Jerry Silverman agreed that voters at an October 1979 special town meeting authorized the town manager to sign the UOP contract.

"Failure to enter into this agreement unless otherwise directed by Town Meeting is to thwart a prior direction and decision given by Town Meeting," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark wrote in a March 26 memo to the selectmen and Finance Committee.

But Selectman Susan Poore, abstaining from the vote, indicated that the UOP proposal should have gone back to town meeting "for verification. I think you've made a big mistake," she said quietly after the vote was taken.

Newly-elected board member Donn Byrne also abstained from the vote.

The question was moved by Selectman

Harris, and seconded by Silverman. "The (Solid Waste Study) committee has studied this matter for a very long period of time, and come up with a proposal in the best interests of the town of Andover," Harris said.

Thomas Stark, chairman of that study committee, emphasized his support for the UOP proposal: "The UOP proposal is the most viable one, and would cost us less money (than the alternatives) — that is what I honestly feel."

Stark presented the board with the committee's recommendation to go with UOP two weeks ago, supported by Clark and Public Works Director Robert McQuade. However, the board delayed action on the recommendation until a number of questions could be answered; those questions were raised by Virginia Cole of Andover Recycling, Inc., and Refuse Fuels, Inc. (RFI), the company competing with UOP for the town's solid waste contract.

Clark submitted written answers to those questions Monday night, but neither Cole nor Clark Lewis — an employee of Raytheon, which is negotiating with RFI to operate its plant — were satisfied with the answers.

Clark submitted written answers to those questions Monday night, but neither Cole nor Clark Lewis — an employee of Raytheon, which is negotiating with RFI to operate its plant — were satisfied with the answers.

"I had hoped I would get new answers," Cole said, "and not the same answers I got five or six years ago. I believe times have changed."

And, like Selectman Poore, Cole said she did not agree with the manager's interpretation of the 1979 special town meeting vote. "I don't remember it as it is stated here," she said. "I think it was a very different wording."

"My main concern with UOP is that it's too big, and it's too long," Cole told the board, adding, "I do not feel that doing nothing is the wrong decision."

Stark said the town has four alternatives for dealing with solid waste disposal: to "do nothing"; to continue with the present system of hiring a contractor to haul waste to a landfill; to sign with UOP, or to sign with RFI.

The study committee concluded that UOP offered "the most cost effective proposal for the Town of Andover," Clark said in his memo. "The voluminous quantities of research, reports, studies and meetings all caused the study committee members to come to the general conclusion that all questions had been asked and satisfactorily answered and that the risks assumed are reasonable."

The major difference between the UOP and RFI proposals is that UOP would offer revenue sharing to the town. Stark explained, UOP will sell the electricity generated by the disposal plant, and share the profits with the municipalities using the plant, reducing their costs.

RFI will also sell the electricity generated at its proposed Haverhill plant, but will not share the profits with the cities and towns that use the plant. However, RFI will not require municipalities to sign 20-year contracts.

Stark added that while UOP is an experienced and reputable company, he has yet to see "a financial statement that verifies to me that Refuse Fuels exists. No place have I seen any documentation showing me where their money comes from."

He told the board, "You can look at a 20-year contract as a 20-year solution."

The UOP plant is expected to be in operation in 1985. The company will not operate the plant until municipalities have committed a minimum of 900 tons for the plant, which will be capable of processing 1,500 tons. Stark said about 50 communities within a 25-mile radius of the plant are expected to contract with UOP.

The public works director said Andover is expected to send 7,000 tons a year to the plant, at a cost of $24 per ton.

Some Confusion Arises On Condo Bylaw

Confusion about whether town meeting must approve every proposal for townhouse developments in Andover arose out of the Planning Board's first public discussion of its proposed multiple-family housing bylaw Tuesday night.

Questions about increasing the town's population density and providing "affordable" housing units were also raised by the handful of townspeople who turned out to discuss the proposed amendment to the zoning bylaw. Planning Board Chairman Frank McBride said he was disappointed that fewer than 20 residents appeared to discuss the amendment that town meeting will consider next month.

Planner David Gravalles explained that if town meeting approves the amendment, a three-part multiple-family zone would be created in Andover: the zone would exist within a mile-and-one-half radius of the central business district, a one-mile radius of Shawsheen Square, and a half-mile radius of Ballardvale Center.

Developers who wished to build townhouses in those areas would apply for a special permit from the planning board. Among the major requirements for the permit would be a parcel size of 15 to 30 acres, and access to existing town water and sewer services.

Proposals meeting all the requirements of the bylaw would be granted permits for townhouse developments — without additional town meeting approval. Gravalles said.

However, Director of Community Development and Planning Rhys Kear said that according to his interpretation of the proposed bylaw, developers would be required to present their proposals to town meeting for the rezoning of their specific parcels.

Planner Jack Tomlinson expressed the opinion that specific proposals do not "belong before town meeting, because town meeting is not as qualified and does not have as much time as the planning board — it seems logical to assign it to the planning board instead of the town."

Board member Andrew Girdwood pointed out that the town manager and selectmen "did not want to see each site go before town meeting. Obviously we have varying opinions, we find we have confusion here — this is something we just have to resolve."

Margaret Keck of Harold Parker Road, a former planning board chairman, pointed out that if town meeting voted on individual parcels, the town would be creating "floating zones." That would be unacceptable under state law, she explained, and the amendment would probably be vetoed by the attorney general.

McBride said the planners had not heard of floating zones before, and would instruct Kear and Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold to investigate that point.

The amendment would create an overlay district, so that townhouse developments would have to be of the same density as the original zone — in most cases, residential.

However, developers would be able to earn "density bonus" points, the right to increase density in varying degrees, by fulfilling other conditions that the planners wish to encourage — for instance, preserving open space or providing affordable units.

But Rebecca Backman of Foster's Pond said the bylaw could increase Andover's density too much. "I have a real problem with designating so much of town under the multi-family zone," she told the planners. "You are talking about nine square miles and several thousand acres of the town, and that's an enormous block of land."

"This is an experimental process," Backman said, "and the zone should be much smaller."

Backman also said the bylaw should require developers to make 30 percent of their total units "affordable."

McBride answered that the planners had "wrestled with the problem of affordable units, and we haven't done well with it." The board is not sure they have a legal right to require affordable units, he added.

Girdwood told Backman that the high cost of land in Andover means that developers could not build more affordable units unless they were allowed greater density. Backman said she did not agree.

As a possible solution, the planners could consider increasing the density bonuses for affordable housing. Kear suggested.

The director added that, as the planners have labored over the bylaw during the past months, it has become "tougher and

Selectmen Derail Plea To Continue Train

Townspeople who ride the rails have pleaded with the selectmen to continue funding Andover-to-Boston train service, but despite their arguments the town manager says there is virtually no chance the trains will run after June 30.

"Commuter rail is a casualty of Proposition 2½," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the residents who appeared before the selectmen at town hall Monday night. "It would cost $25-26,000 a year for a service which would benefit approximately 100 Andover residents."

Part of that money would come from property taxes, the manager said, at a time when "other services which benefit more people are being cut from the town and school budgets" under 2½, to reduce the property tax.

Rail service from Haverhill to Boston, provided by the MBTA, was resumed on Dec. 17, 1979, after the Merrimack Valley had lacked train service for nearly four years. But in February, the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA) — of which Andover is a member — voted to terminate service to Andover, Lawrence and Haverhill on March 15.

However, the possibility of increased state funding, coupled with public pressure, prompted the MVRTA to extend train service until March 31, according to Thayer Warshaw, the manager's representative on the MVRTA. The state legislature is now expected to help fund the service through June 30, the end of the fiscal year, he added.

Two years ago town meeting authorized the town to spend $45,000 a year on commuter rail, Clark said, total expenditures from property taxes to date amount to approximately $32,000.

Among the townspeople who testified to the merits of commuter rail was Robert Zollner of Highland Road, a railway commuter and member of the Andover transportation committee. Zollner charged that the MVRTA gave the town and commuters

The Digital Proposal

The growth of industry in Andover in recent years has been unique to say the least.

Beginning with the Gillette Co. which initiated development of the Lowell Junction area over a dozen years ago and the Hewlett-Packard plant which began the West Andover industrial area about a decade ago, Andover has had an influx of industrial development which makes other communities envious.

Obviously, the town remains a good industrial address, as the Digital Co. works with the town hopeful of favorable consideration of rezoning land off Route 93 near Dascomb Road for major industrial expansion.

Also included in the plans for development of that site is the installation of a sewer line which provides a major consideration on the part of town officials, in addition to the rezoning issue.

The question revolves around the adherence to the town's master plan for town sewer facilities through a gravity-feed system, or the installation of a pump station to service the industrial plant.

As of the moment, local officials have about two weeks to make a decision whether to support the issue, or more importantly, whether to allow the items to be placed in the warrant for town meeting consideration in late May or early June.

Digital officials need to know the town's feelings this spring, since waiting another year for the decision is out of the question for their plans.

The computer firm is already committed to Andover with taking over the Polaroid plant in West Andover, as well as development of additional acreage abutting that plant.

Its plans for the Dascomb Road site are in addition and include consolidating operations of plants in other Massachusetts and New Hampshire areas into the new Andover building.

Frankly, there should be little question that the rezoning and sewer issues should be placed in the warrant for the townspeople to consider at the annual town meeting.

There will be ample time for further discussions between both Digital and local officials before that annual session, thus permitting boards and administrators opportunity to make their recommendations to the voters.

A rezoning issue, of course, will result in objections from those in the general neighborhood of the area to be developed. It can be anticipated that those who bought and developed property as residential, would object to major industrial development in the area.

But the Digital proposal does not impose an unwanted or obnoxious type of operation into the area, and problems such as traffic can be minimized through cooperative effort which company officials have pledged to the town.

The sewer question is one which will be addressed further, once the decision is made to insert the articles and all the facts are made clear as to the advantages of adhering to the master plan as opposed to installation of a pump station.

It would seem that following the master plan would be the best direction in which to move, since it would continue development of the town on a planned, orderly basis. Cost of underwriting such an installation would be great, but with the overall tax returns to the town from the overall Digital development in Andover, the general effect on the tax rate should be tempered greatly.

Development of the acreage for industrial purposes would eliminate the prospect of continued single-family home construction there, which creates the need for additional municipal services, unlike the needs of an industrial plant.

And, while there are those who would do their best to prevent development and new construction in Andover, building will continue. It is evidenced by the continued increase in new construction permits in Andover, while elsewhere similar activity is well below that of recent years.

Digital is a solid firm with a cooperative community attitude. Their plans for additional development in Andover should be fostered for the benefit of the town as well as the entire area which will realize job potential as well as other advantages from such construction.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April 1906

As a result of the snow and wind storm on Friday afternoon the large apple tree in front of the home of Timothy Sullivan on Red Spring Road was blown down carrying with it an electric lighting pole.

The trustees of Phillips Academy have recently received a large consignment of coal for their heating plant and many local teamsters are employed in hauling it.

A strong effort is being made to revive roller polo in this town and already a team has been picked to represent Andover at the amateur games at the Majestic rink in Lawrence. A few years ago when polo was played in Lawrence city hall, Andover supported one of the strongest teams in the league.

A horse driven by Brooks F. Holt, the local ice dealer, ran away on Saturday morning, throwing Mr. Holt out and completely demolishing the sleigh. The runaway happened on Main street and was caused by the runner of the sleigh catching in a car track. Mr. Holt was uninjured.

The storm of Thursday was without doubt the worst that has visited Andover this season, there having been a heavier fall of snow, accompanied by a wind that reached the velocity of nearly a mile a minute. The storm started in about 9 o'clock on Thursday morning and as the day wore on it increased its strength and by 6 o'clock in the evening it was on in full force.

50 Years Ago — April 1931

Police reported Wednesday that a window at Miller's shoe store was broken sometime during the night, but that there was no evidence that anyone had entered the store. The window is one of the small ones on the south side next the Savings Bank. The window catch was also undone.

Prudence exercised by Andover voters in making appropriations at the annual Town meeting held on Monday will result in only a moderate advance in the tax rate for the coming year in spite of an entirely unexpected appropriation of $5,000 for a new electric pump, made necessary by the breaking down of the old steam pump at the Haggett's pond station, $10,000 added to the recommended appropriation for snow removal and the new item of $6,000 for Old Age Assistance.

Because of a statement to the effect that cancer of the lip which has heretofore been a rare disease among women may become more prevalent as women acquire the habit of smoking, much attention has been paid by the press during the past few weeks to the subject. The physician who is said to have made the statement may have good grounds for his opinion, although the facts upon which he bases the assertion do not appear.

The school committee deserves commendation for cooperating with the movement to keep municipal expenditures down in Andover. In asking for an appropriation for $150,344, which is $11 less than the total of its 1930 budget, the board showed a willingness to share in the efforts being made to economize.

25 Years Ago — April 1956

Hundreds of relieved voters applauded vigorously at town meeting Monday night when the working press was finally admitted to the session. It was the end of a situation that began Saturday afternoon when the annual meeting was called to order. It was then that the members of the working press, both non-residents, were not allowed to enter the hall despite an overwhelming vote that saw more than 1,000 persons rise in favor while two men stood, lonely but resolutely opposed.

Raytheon Manufacturing Company probably will exercise its option on the Shawsheen Mills before the deadline May 15. Small manufacturers in the Greater Lawrence area heard that encouraging opinion Tuesday morning from Jack Williams, purchasing agent of the electronics firm.

10 Years Ago — April 1971

Town meeting will continue with an all day session on Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. Officials have stated that the meeting will continue until approximately 5 p.m. in an attempt to complete the warrant articles. If another session is needed, a return to the Monday night meeting schedule will be moved.

The Doherty school addition is in trouble. Dr. Francis Griggs, a newcomer to Andover politics, intends to present facts and figures as to why the proposed $1,900,500 addition is not needed and that the present school facilities are adequate for Andover's school needs at the town meeting possibly on Saturday.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Calm, low-key Reagan is center of major White House changes

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- Ronald Reagan is a relaxed, low-key president who has fit into the White House as comfortably as a foot in an old shoe. The appearances, of course, are deceptive: He really stands in the eye of a hurricane that whirls around him.

Most of the frenetic activity in the first weeks of the Reagan administration has been directed toward reversing the economic tides. This is a little like trying to make the Potomac River flow uphill.

Every White House move has been carefully calculated. The planning group first called the operation "the 100-day project." They then changed the name to "the initial actions project."

Reagan's advisers concluded that the new administration, if it's going to change the economic direction of the country, must establish the momentum in the early days. They hope to take advantage of the president's post-election popularity and throw the opposition off-balance before the Democrats can regroup from their election defeat.

The planning group decided to focus on the economic program, rather than dilute their efforts with several campaigns at once. And Reagan didn't wait for congressional leaders to come to him. He went to them. He even drove to Walter Reed

Army Hospital to pay a bedside visit to Senate Finance Committee Chairman Robert Dole, R-Kan., who was recuperating from a kidney operation.

The president presented Dole with a copy of George Gilder's book, "Wealth and Poverty," which has become the economic bible for the Reagan White House. The president talked about the federal budget briefly with the hospitalized senator, who raised some mild objections in behalf of the farmers of his native state.

Reagan then asked if it hurt Dole to laugh. Dole said no. So the president, with a broad grin, began to reel off a few jokes.

Episodes like this illustrate how the Reagan administration in just two months has changed the prevailing economic views in Washington.

If Reagan does win the battle of the budget, meanwhile, he can thank his budget director, David Stockman. He is directing the legislative battle, and he is relentless in the backrooms.

The Democratic leader in the Senate, Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., for example, decided that the outnumbered members of his party should concentrate on a single budgetary item to make a stand. He picked the energy budget, which isn't surprising since he wanted to save a synthetic fuel plant in his home state.

A few days ago, Byrd called together all the Democrats on the energy committee for a private, informal session. They decided that the best strategy would be to come up with their own ideas for cutting the budget. That way, they hoped to protect their pet energy programs from David Stockman.

But Stockman outflanked them. He simply cut off all government funds for one pet project in each of the Democratic senators' home states. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., discovered that a synthetic fuel plant in his home state was threatened. John Melcher, D-Mont., found federal aid cut off for a project to develop alternative uses for coal. Paul Tsongas, D-Mass., saw a solar energy project endangered.

Stockman's fiendish plan worked because the Democrats wanted to stand together. To ensure solidarity, they would have had to save everyone's pet program, and that would have added more than $1 billion to the energy budget. A sum like that would give the Democrats an unenviable "big spender" label with the folks back home.

So Byrd was forced to retreat and had to content himself with issuing an angry statement. The energy cuts, he declared, were Reagan's "Achilles Heel."

WATCH ON WASTE: Classified government documents reveal that private contractors are ripping off millions of dollars from the Air Force every year. It's possible there is also connivance by Air Force supply officials.

At Beale Air Force Base in California, for example, the supply store contract recently came up for renewal. The bids were close, so the Air Force requested a final offer from the two lowest bidders. One lowered his bid substantially and got the contract.

An investigation disclosed, however, that the contractor's reduced bid depended on drastic reductions in the price of two heat pumps. In his original bid, the contractor listed prices of $1,105 and $952 for the pumps. But in his revised bid -- the one that won the contract -- the prices were $22 and $18.

A reduction like that should have set the alarms ringing in the Air Force procurement office's early warning system. But it didn't. Not until after the contract was awarded did the contractor inform the Air Force that the inexpensive heat pumps he had promised were not available. Instead, he offered two other models costing $1,169 and $1,007 apiece -- more than the pumps in his original bid. Worse, the Air Force accepted this outrage.

Andover All-Stars

Tournament Winners

All Stars Win First Round

The Andover All-Stars eighth grade basketball team opened play in the ninth annual Wakefield Invitational Tournament by trimming Saugus 46-32 in the first round of action last Sunday at the Wakefield Fieldhouse.

The triumph advanced Andover into the tourney quarterfinals, where it will battle Reading in an 8 o'clock game this Saturday.

The Andover eighth graders also have an opening round contest in the Lexington Invitational Tournament scheduled for Saturday afternoon, making it a busy day for the locals.

The Andover eighth grade squad includes nine players from the Andover West Junior High team that has yet to lose this year, going 10-0 during the regular Merrimack Valley Conference season before sweeping to three victories and the championship of the Greater Lawrence Invitational Tournament.

In addition, nine of the current squad members were on the team last spring when it won the Mt. Wachusett Invitational tourney, battled to the title game in the Greater Boston Pre-Teen tourney, and advanced to the semifinals of the New Bedford and Wakefield Tournaments.

The eighth grade team is bidding to join the Andover All-Stars sixth and seventh graders as champions this year.

The sixth graders recently swept four straight games enroute to the Saugus Ironworks Tournament title, while the seventh graders earned Andover's second straight Mt. Wachusett crown two weeks ago.

The seventh graders drew a first round bye in the Wakefield tourney, and will begin play this Saturday evening in the quarterfinals.

Andover, 46-32

Andover had trouble shaking Saugus in the first half, grabbing a slim 21-17 lead although outplaying its foe most of the way.

The locals penetrated well for good shots, but missed a number of lay-ups that could have broken the game open earlier.

Billy Lane and Bill Weidman netted four points apiece in the opening quarter, as Andover inched ahead 9-8, and four points each from Tom Lutz and Dan Carignan enabled the winners to outscore Saugus 12-9 in the second stanza.

Andover pulled away in the third period, using full-court pressure to create several turnovers and spark an 11-2 run that made it 32-19 late in the period.

Bill Weidman pumped in six points and pulled down five rebounds to lead the way, while key baskets were contributed by guards Kraig Burzlaff and Chris Comparato.

The winners increased their lead to as many as 16 points in the fourth quarter, with Weidman notching five more points, Carignan three and other big buckets coming from Lane, Lutz and Tim Perry.

Defensively Mike Melia, Dan Sheehan, Perry, Weidman and Lutz all had steals off the press.

Weidman emerged as game-high marksman with 17 points and he also corralled 13 rebounds, passed out 4 assists and blocked 3 shots.

Billy Lane chipped in 7 points, 4 assists and 1 rejection, while Carignan contributed 7 points and 3 assists.

Tom Lutz pumped in 6 points, pulled down 9 rebounds and passed out 3 assists.

Tim Perry had 3 points, 3 boards and 2 steals, while other baskets came from Tim Reilly (a pretty reverse lay-up), Burzlaff and Comparato.

Sheehan chipped in a solid defensive effort, as did Mark Doherty. Rich Dunn and Jeff Poor. Doherty produced a pair of steals, while Dunn and Poor had rebounds.

John Taylor paced the Saugus offense with 12 points, Ernest Gallo added 10, and Eddie Fisher, 7.

Saugus has suffered through a long year against Andover teams in basketball.

The Andover High crew bounced Saugus from the Eastern Mass. Division I Tournament, 58-39; the Andover sixth grade All-Stars dumped the Saugus Shooters, 32-19, in the Ironworks Tournament championship game; and the eighth graders ousted Saugus in the Wakefield Tournament.

On Brown's Lacrosse Team

Paul Farnham of Andover is currently involved in preseason workouts with the Brown University men's lacrosse team.

The Bruins finished with a 9-4 record in 1980 under head coach Cliff Stevenson, and were ranked ninth in the nation, just missing a spot in the NCAA postseason tournament. The Bruins are a leading contender to reach the NCAA's this spring.

Farnham, a sophomore midfielder, played mostly with the junior varsity as a freshman. He is a top prospect on a strong midfield group that is considered to be one of the best in the country.

Farnham is a graduate of Andover High School. His brother, Mark, an All-American as a junior and senior, is the Brown JV coach this year.

Farnham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham of 122 Chestnut St., is a sociology major at Brown.

Trotters Basketball Club In Area Tournaments

The Greater Andover Trotters Basketball Club, coached by Frank Monette and consisting of ninth graders from Andover, Lawrence, North Reading, and Salem, N.H., will be competing in basketball tournaments held in Wakefield, Taunton, Marlborough, Lexington, and Arlington.

The Trotters also include an eighth grade team competing in 14 and under tournaments and a sophomore team competing in 16 and under tournaments.

Coach Monette has been coaching tournament teams for over 20 years in Andover which include most of the members of this year's Andover High School Varsity team.

The Greater Andover Trotters ninth graders began their tournament schedule this week in the Wakefield Tournament as they clobbered Stoneham in the opening Preliminary contest by a score of 62-20. The game was never in doubt as the Trotters jumped out to a 22-2 first quarter lead on the strength of Andover's Mark Nardone who banked in 10 points, Peter Simonds 6 points (N.R.), John Lahood 4 points (And), and 2 points each from Mark Tremblay (N.R.) and Kevin Poole (S.N.H.).

The halftime score read Andover Trotters 37, Stoneham 8, as Nardone hit for 4 more points, Mike Wheeler (N.R.) 4 points, Tim Frahm (S.N.H.) 3 points, and 2 each from Kevin Poole and Peter Simonds. After three quarters of play the score read Andover 46, Stoneham 16, as Poole had three points and Mark Tremblay, Mark Nardone and Fran McGranaghan each chipped in with two points. In the final quarter Poole scored 6 points, Wheeler 4, and 2 each were dunked in by Tremblay, Lahood and Frahm. For the game, Mark Nardone led all scorers with 14 points, followed by Kevin Poole's 13. Mike Wheeler and Peter Simonds stuffed in 8 points each; Mark Tremblay and John Lahood swished 6 points apiece; Tim Frahm 5 points; and Fran McGranaghan 2 points.

Two players missing from action on the Andover Trotters team due to sickness, center Leo Parent and guard Tim Brant (ankle injury), will be expected in the lineup when Andover faces Beverly in the quarter-finals Saturday evening in Wakefield at 9 p.m. Kevin Poole led the Trotters in rebounds with 20 as Fran McGranaghan, the playmaking guard, had nine assists and John Lahood and Tim Frahm stole the ball five times each.

No. Carolina Keeps Hopes Alive

By Rick Harrison

North Carolina State kept its slender title hopes alive in Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division play last week, nudging first place Harvard, 29-25.

That result left the Wolfpack two games behind Harvard with two games remaining for both teams.

Those final contests were played earlier this week, and if NCS won both and Harvard lost both, a special one-game championship playoff will be staged to determine the titlist.

In addition to beating Harvard, red-hot North Carolina State also came from behind to defeat Boston College 36-31.

Harvard earned a split with a 38-15 triumph over Dartmouth, while Boston College also divided its two games by nudging Villanova 21-17.

Holy Cross gained that elusive first victory, nipping Dartmouth 21-17, and Villanova kept its chances for a .500 season alive with a 26-14 conquest of Holy Cross.

Harvard, 38-15

Harvard inched ahead 12-10 at halftime, then raced to its convincing victory over Dartmouth behind the second-half sharpshooting of Beau Jones and John Perry.

Jones and Perry pumped through 11 points apiece after intermission, as the Crimson held a 14-4 scoring edge in the third quarter and 12-1 spread in the final stanza.

Perry emerged as game-high marksman with 15 points, Jones added 13, Nick Coon 4, and single baskets were netted by Steve Redgate, Bob Manning and Kyle Marcella.

Also playing well for the front runners were Jay Trepanier, Chris Nelson and Matt Dorsey.

Steve Gemmell and John Twomey tossed in 4 points apiece for Dartmouth, Matt Geiger hooped 3, Dave Vickers 2 and Lisa Horgan 2.

Dave Noyes and Scott DeGregorio were other stalwarts.

N.C. State, 36-31

Division scoring leader Joe Hart (174 points) poured through 14 first-half points as Boston College grabbed a 21-12 lead against North Carolina State, but Tom Deleire and Rob DiTroia sparked a 24-10 second half surge by the Wolfpack to keep them in contention.

Deleire popped through 6 points and DiTroia 5 in the third period, as N.C. State tied it 23-23, and Deleire added 4 more during a 13-8 fourth quarter run by the winners.

Tom Deleire finished with a personal single-game season-high 12 points, while Rich Bourdelais pumped through 9 points, including 5 in the pivotal fourth quarter, and Mike DiMeo swished 1 field-goal.

Scott Powers and Bob Padva converted free throws to complete the Wolfpack offense.

Joe Hart led all scorers with 20 points for BC, Jim Flowers stuffed 4, and single baskets were notched by Lydia Wise, John Tateosian and Chris DiClemente.

Eric Frank swished a foul shot and Scott Woodruff was a defensive standout for the Eagles.

Villanova, 26-14

Trailing by one point at halftime, Villanova outscored Holy Cross 21-8 over the final two quarters as Chris Poor and John Nuzzo got hot.

Poor pocketed six of his game-high eight points in the second half, while Nuzzo netted all seven of his markers following intermission.

Paul Valcourt pumped through six points for the Wildcats, Jon Yezerski and Chuck Faust dunked single fieldgoals, and Pat Fleming swished a free throw.

Mark Geiger and Pat Burns added hustling performances for Villanova.

Andy Lascher paced the balanced Holy Cross attack with four points, while Stu Leinson, Chris Colsia, John Daly and Dave Pikney added buckets.

Geoff Bolan and Eric Goodman pocketed free throws and Kurt Burzlaff turned in his usual outstanding effort off the boards.

Holy Cross, 21-17

The long-suffering Crusaders made Dartmouth their first victim in 13 games, opening up a 16-8 lead midway through the third quarter and then hanging tough for the triumph.

Chris Colsia broke the game open by sneaking behind the Big Green defense for three quick baskets in the second period, and a key bucket by Dave Pikney in the fourth quarter kept HC on top.

Colsia shared game-high scoring laurels with 8 points, Geoff Bolan pumped through 6, Kurt Burzlaff 2, John Daly 2, and Pikney 2 for the Crusaders. Andy Lascher added a key fourth period foul shot.

Brian Brussard and Russ Lamaontagne also played well for Holy Cross, which earlier in the year dropped heart-breaking one-point decisions to North Carolina State and Harvard.

Matt Geiger flipped in eight points for Dartmouth, which twice closed within one point but never took the lead.

Steve Gemmell swished 5 points, Larry Aiello 2, and free throws were contributed

Other notables for the Big Green were Phil Kendall, Tony Lautieri, Lisa Horgan, Scott DeGregorio and Sue Grogan.

Boston College, 21-17

The Eagles broke open a tight game with a 7-2 third period spurt, then fought off Villanova in the fourth quarter to avenge a tough one-point (28-27) loss to the Wildcats just seven days earlier.

Eric Frank, John Tateosian and James Baxter delivered the key fieldgoals in the third period for BC, while Joe Hart once again grabbed game-high scoring honors with eight points.

Lydia Wise, who swished a free throw in the third session, preserved the Eagles' triumph with two important fourth period baskets.

Other Boston College hustlers were Jim Flowers, Chris DiClemente and Scott Woodruff.

John Nuzzo and Chris Poor did the bulk of the damage for Villanova, tossing in 6 and 5 points respectively.

Pat Burns and Jon Yezerski had single hoops, while Pat Fleming swished a pair

Lakers, Bullets Cop Wins

49

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 2, 1981

The champion Lakers outgunned the Hawks, 61-48, and the runner-up Bullets shot down the Kings, 60-40, in Andover Youth Basketball League Senior Division play last week at East Junior High.

Lakers, 61-48

Alan Pelletier, Chris Marcella and Brian Sheehy combined for 18 first quarter points, as the Lakers raced to a commanding 19-4 lead, and the Hawks never threatened seriously the rest of the way.

The Hawks did trim their deficit to 29-19 at halftime, as Tim Perry sparked the second period surge, but Sheehy and Marcella led the way as the Lakers once again pulled far ahead in the third stanza.

Alan Pelletier, Brian Sheehy and Chris Marcella all cracked double figures for the victors with 19, 17, and 15 points respectively.

Lisa Marcella and Joe Thibodeau tossed through 4 points each, and Terry Flynn tossed in 3 points.

Division scoring champ Tim Perry emerged as game-high after pouring through 26 points for the Hawks, 15 of them in the final period.

Mike Coelho chipped in 6 points while Harvey Eckoff, Greg McAnern, Jerry Ahern and Tom Novelline added 4 points apiece.

The result left the Lakers at 9-1 and the Hawks at 3-7 overall.

Bullets, 60-40

Terry Burke, Eugene Sullivan and Tom Moon pooled talents for 46 points as the Bullets overcame a phenomenal performance by sizzling Kevin Bardsley to subdue the Kings.

Burke pumped in 25 points, 12 in the fourth quarter, as the Bullets broke open a tight ballgame with a 28-point final period explosion.

The Kings inched ahead 8-7 after one stanza and 26-24 at halftime, but Robby Pauline and Tom Moon hooped four points each in the third period to lift the Bullets to a 32-29 lead.

The victors outscored the Kings 28-11 in the final quarter to coast to the triumph.

Eugene Sullivan followed Burke with 11 points for the Bullets, while Moon popped in all 10 of his markers in the second half.

Robby Pauline and James Fearing chipped in six points apiece and Steve Zaines added a basket.

Kevin Bardsley, hitting from every conceivable angle on the court, poured through 16 points to power the Kings.

Marc Bolan contributed 9 points, Sean Trombley 8, Brandon Bachner 4, and Jim Marocco swished 3 foul shots.

Matt Ostrowski and Eddie Melia were other Kings' stalwarts.

Ocean Energy

Scientists are studying various ways to tap the ocean's enormous energy potential. Possibilities include thermal water decomposition, tidal power and ocean thermal energy conversion. The U.S. Department of Energy estimates that 180 million kilowatt hours of power about 75 times as much as we used last year could be generated annually from the Gulf Stream flowing along the East Coast if the current could be harnessed.

The Bullets are now 6-4 overall and the Kings 2-8.

PeeWee B Andover 3 - Tewksbury 2

Andover scored in the closing minutes and held off a determined assault in their own zone to come away with this win. Both teams played very well, both had their share of chances, both had some errors and lucky breaks, and the outcome wasn't certain until the final buzzer.

The winning goal came at 2:22 of the third period, when Bill Bruno, Dave Riddiford and Chris Sapuppo, with Mark Needham and John Gangi at the points, were all over Tewksbury in the zone and finally Bruno and Riddiford worked the puck in front and kept it loose until Sapuppo slammed it by a harried goalie. Andover goalies Chris Hansberry and Tim Adams had each played a sound game, but with barely one minute left, Adams made what looked like the biggest save of the game, sliding out to smother the puck on a clean two man break.

Throughout the game Brian Gibson, John Gangi and Tom Herling provided good defensive work and gave Tewksbury a lot of trouble with shots from the outside. Peter Trede and Gregg Tormey also did excellent two-way work. The usually high scoring line of Matt Young, Mark Berberian and Kyle McCabe carried tremendous offense all the way and was held off only by very sharp, and sometimes lucky, goaltending. Near the end of the first period, Young and Berberian teamed up with defenseman Peter Trede to kill off a 3-on-5 penalty situation. Wings Matt Young and Mike Nelligan were called on to switch to playing defense on penalty killing units, and effectively helped contain Tewksbury's attack. Matt Alden and Dan Hagerty, along with Nelligan, had several good attacks on the Tewksbury net and almost scored a couple of times, really testing the goalie.

Tewksbury scored first early in the first period, and Andover didn't get the tying goal until two minutes into the second period. Sapuppo grabbed a loose puck just outside the blue line and broke by the defense, getting hooked as he drove to the net. He got the shot off as he began to fall, and Bruno pounced on the rebound to shove it under the goalie. Tewksbury pulled ahead by one in the third period, but Sapuppo and Bruno worked hard for the tying score again, this time with Bruno leading a two man charge and Sapuppo finishing off the rush with a shot under the diving goalie.

It was a well earned team victory.

Danvers League Andover 7 - Revere 5

Andover continues to hold onto its one game lead for first place in Danvers Division I play. The PeeWee B squad showed Revere that their tie earlier in the season was not what it appeared to be, as they dominated most of the game and came away with a solid 7-2 victory.

Revere got a quick goal in the first 30 seconds on a breakaway, but in a couple of minutes Mark Berberian answered with the first goal of an eventual hat trick, assisted by Matt Young. Revere pulled ahead again with a quick goal, but Berberian retaliated again, this time assisted by Kyle McCabe on a hustling play. After that, it was all Andover. By the end of the first period, Bill Bruno had driven home an unassisted score and the lead just kept getting bigger.

In the second period Bruno assisted on a goal by Chris Sapuppo; and then Berberian notched his third goal, again assisted by Young. Peter Trede, moving from defense to cover a wing position in this game, picked up an unassisted goal. And near the end of the period, Berberian picked up another point, assisted on a goal by Matt Young.

Dan Hagerty had an excellent game, controlling play well along the boards in the offensive zone. The defense was outstanding. John Gangi broke up several Revere offensive bids, as did Gregg Tor-

Chuck Faust, Brian Lannan, Mark Geiger and Paul Valcourt were other Wildcats' stalwarts.

N.C. State, 29-25

A balanced scoring attack led by Tim Higgins, Mike Burke, Rob DiTroia and Bob Padva lifted North Carolina State to its "must" victory over Harvard.

The Crimson grabbed the early lead with Steve Redgate igniting the attack, but N.C. State inched ahead near halftime and maintained a slim lead throughout the final two quarters.

Harvard, which got into foul trouble in the late going, was paced by Redgate, Beau Jones, John Perry, Jay Trepanier and Bob Manning.

mev. On the last few shifts center Matt Alden and win Mike Nelligan switched to defense and gave Brian Gibson, Tom Herline, and Mark Needham a turn on the forward lines where they turned in a solid job of offense.

With one regular season game left things are looking good for a solid playoff effort.

Squirt A's Wilmington League

Andover 4 - No. Andover 4

This was one of the more exciting games that Andover has played this season. The first period was a defensive struggle with most of the play occurring between the blue lines. Tom Tormey, Hugh Maginnis, Joey Lyons, Steven McSweeney, Chip Stella and Patrick Breen did a fine job in breaking up No. Andover's offense. They were so effective, No. Andover did not get a single shot on net. Andover's best opportunity came late in the period when Matt Adams got a pass from John Gilmartin and broke over the blue line. Matt slid the puck to Duke McNamara who put it right on the No. Andover goalie. He made the save and that was the only shot on net that Andover managed. The period ended in a 0-0 tie.

The second period continued in the same way as the first. Andover was enjoying territorial advantage but at the six-minute mark, Andover's defense got caught up and No. Andover had a three on one break. They capitalized and broke the ice on scoring. Two minutes later, Robert Stoltz dug the puck away from a No. Andover defenseman at the red line. He broke free and swung in on the goalie. He put a hard, low shot past him to tie up the game. The period ended in a 1-1 tie. Momentum was swinging to Andover. Shots on net favored Andover six to four in the period. Goalie Ian Anderson played well for his half of the game, allowing only one goal.

The third period opened up offensively for both teams. No. Andover broke on top again at the nine-minute mark. Andover's goalie, James Berberian, made the initial save, but could not control the puck and a No. Andover wing popped it past him. At the 7:30 mark, Pat Breen passed the puck to Doug Bleszinski crossing the red line. Doug hit a streaking Brent Raftery who beat the defense and blew a nice shot past No. Andover's goalie. Twenty seconds later, on another defensive mistake by Andover, No. Andover scored. A minute later, Doug Bleszinski hit Pat Breen crossing the red line. Pat took the defenseman left and did a nice pass to Robert Stoltz who took the pass and beat their goalie on the far side to tie it up for the third time. Andover continued the offensive pressure and the defense overplayed the puck and again they got caught up and allowed a clean break on goalie Berberian. They scored and went ahead for the fourth time in the game with three minutes left. With a minute left, Hugh Maginnis hit Pat Breen with a nice pass at their blue line. Pat hit Brent with a pass in the center. Brent and Robert Stoltz came down with only one defenseman to beat. When the defenseman moved to Brent he passed to Robert who broke in alone and beat the goalie tying it up again. This was Robert's first "hat trick" and it couldn't have come at a better time. The puck stayed in No. Andover's zone for the final minute, but Andover could not score. Andover outshot No. Andover nine to four in the final period and 16 to eight in the game. What could have been a super win turned into a well deserved tie for Andover.

Danvers League

Andover 2 - Malden 2

Andover played an undefeated Malden team and for the second time in a row, came away with a tie. The first period was played mostly in Andover's end. Chip Stella, Hugh Maginnis, Steven McSweeney, Tom Tormey and Joey Lyons did a fine job for Andover. Offensively, Andover looked sluggish early, but finally started to pick up. At the six-minute mark, Andover broke on top. Steven McSweeney fired the puck from the left point. A Malden defenseman deflected it and it dropped to the right side. Robert Stoltz banged it in. Malden came back a minute later to tie it at one all. The period ended with Malden outshooting Andover 10 to 3. Goalie James Berberian did a super job in net turning aside nine of the 10 Malden shots.

In the second period, territorial advantage evened up. Our defense again played well. Offensively the lines of Raftery, Farnham, Donegan and Adams, McNamara and Gilmartin had good opportunities, but Malden hung in. It wasn't until the final minute of play that Andover was able to score. Doug Bleszinski broke up a Malden play in Andover's end and the puck went to Robert Stoltz who carried it out of Andover's zone and passed to Pat Breen. Pat broke around the last Malden defenseman and moved in on their goalie. He fired a low, rising shot over the goalie's shoulder and ended the period with Andover ahead 2-1. Both Andover goalies combined to shut out Malden in the second period.

Malden regained territorial advantage in the third period due to a number of penalties being called on Andover. Again our defense held. Malden got a break with only five minutes left in the period. A year ended on a disappointing note when they lost to Agawam, a team they had defeated in two earlier meetings, by a 4-2 score in Danvers League action. Goalies Michelle DiStefano and Michael Murnane played well enough to win most games but luck was not with them or the team this time out. One of the Agawam goals was on a breakaway and the other three were on scrambles in front.

Malden shot from the left point came through a screen and into the net to tie the game for Malden for the second time. This sparked Andover's offense, 6-0 to 5-4. The game ended in a 2 to 2 tie and Malden remained undefeated. Goalie Ian Anderson did a fine job of stopping 11 shots on net in the period overall. Malden outshot Andover 20 to 17 and both Andover goalies did a good job keeping the puck out of the net.

Matty Pothier gave Andover a 1-0 lead on the first shift of the game when he broke free at center ice and whipped in a wrist shot from the base of the left faceoff circle. The score came after Matty and linemates Michael DiStefano and Gary Bleszinski, aided by the point play of Jonathan Shine and Michael Tiberii, had kept the puck in the Agawam half of the ice for over two minutes. Agawam tied the game up at 1-1 late in the first period on a scramble.

Agawam scored the only two goals of the second period to take a 3-1 lead. Danny Iandoli, David Sopp, and Eddie Chaisson combined to give Andover a very effective line throughout the period and the game but their luck was bad and they could not score despite several excellent plays. DJ Camarota and Timmy Sullivan also played very well for Andover in the middle period, stopping several Agawam rushes each.

Randy Moreau, Todd Roycroft, and Jimmy Morris put together an excellent play early in the third period to make it 3-2 Andover. Randy scored the goal on a deflection off Todd Roycroft's shot after Todd took a nice set up pass from Jimmy. Agawam scored again late in the game to make it 4-2, but only after each of Andover's three lines had had several good chances at the tying goal turned away.

PeeWee A

Andover 3 - Haverhill 3

Andover's PeeWee A's played Haverhill for the third time this season on Thursday, March 26, and came away with a 3-3 tie on Haverhill's home ice. The season's series ended up at one win, one loss and one tie for each team. This last game might well have ended up in the Andover win column if the ice time for the game had not run out with over seven minutes left in the third period. Andover had begun to dominate play in the third period and the rink's ice time regulations probably cost the A's a victory.

Haverhill scored the first goal of the game on a screen shot less than five minutes into the game. Andover quickly tied it up though, when David Young took David Curtis' pass from behind the net and snapped it in from the base of the left face off circle. Jeff McNeil, Matt Young and Mark Neaves then came out and had several good scoring chances stopped before the period ended with the teams tied at 1-1.

Haverhill's offense got cranked up in the middle period when the Hillies scored twice to Andover's once to take a 3-2 lead into the final period. The scores came despite some excellent defensive play by Paul Gilmartin and Jamie O'Brien. Andover's goal came when Georgie Heseltine tipped in David Young's shot which had been partially blocked by a Haverhill defenseman.

The roles reversed in the third period. With Stevie Donovan, David Bartle and Cort Pomeroy leading the way up front and Matt Shine and Earl Abdo playing very well at the points, Andover's offense kept continual pressure on Haverhill. The score to tie it up came less than three minutes into the period when Georgie Heseltine rifled in a wrist shot. Andover's domination continued for the next few minutes but time ran out.

Methuen 4 - Andover 1

The PeeWee A's recent streak of bad luck and sporadic poor play in the Wilmington League continued last Saturday when they lost to Methuen 4-1. This game would have to fall into the bad luck category though, because Andover actually played well in the game and deserved a better fate.

Methuen controlled play during most of the first period, outshooting Andover 9-4 and outscoring them 2-1. Andover goalie Kenny Young came up with several excellent saves in the first period and repeated the performance for the rest of the game. Three of the four Methuen goals came after Kenny had made the initial save and in two cases after he had made repeated saves during scrambles in front. The Andover goal came midway through the first period when Jamie O'Brien broke down the left wing and then fed Georgie Heseltine who was alone in the slot. Georgie snapped in a strong wrist shot. Georgie, Jamie and David Young combined to give Andover a very effective line throughout the game.

Andover regained some control of the game in the second period as they outshot Methuen 6-5. Timmy Donovan, Shannon McCabe and Mark Neaves led the charge with several good scoring chances. With a little luck the line might have had three or more goals. Matt Shine and Earl Abdo played a big hand in shutting down the Methuen offense in the period by continually breaking up plays and holding the puck in the offensive zone with heads-up point play.

Mosa Kaleel centered David Bartle and Cort Pomeroy in the third period and gave Andover some consistent offense. Despite their efforts they had no more luck than their teammates and ended up being shut out. Andover had four penalties called on them in the third period which required excellent penalty killing by Jeff McNeil, David Curtis, Paul Gilmartin and Stevie Donovan to keep Methuen down to a single goal.

Andover 2 - Ipswich 0

The PeeWee A's bounced back from the Methuen defeat with a very impressive win over Ipswich on Sunday. The win moved Andover into second place in the Danvers League and assured the team of a playoff spot. Goalie Greg Najjar anchored the win by turning away all the shots

Ipswich had at him, including snuffing a breakaway midway through the last period which seemed to take the starch out of Ipswich.

Andover earned the victory by playing team hockey throughout the game. All 17 players contributed to the win, as the

Spring Programs At YMCA

Registrations are now being accepted at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. for their Pre-School, Youth, and Adult Spring programs. Hours of registration will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and Sunday from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

The eight-week spring term, which begins April 27 and ends June 22, features a variety of aquatics, fitness and interest-related programs for all ages.

Several different types of programs are available for the pre-school child. They include Play group at the Y, a program especially designed to provide the three to six year old with opportunities to develop self-awareness, self-confidence, and creative expression through a variety of activities which include swim and gym, crafts, creative rhythms, and look, listen and learn activities. This program is available Monday through Friday from 9-11:30 a.m. Parents may register their children for 2, 3, 4, or 5 days per week. Tiger Cubs, a similar program, will be offered to the 4, 5, and 6 year olds on Saturday mornings from 9-12 noon.

Other combination programs offered to this age group include Swim & Gym, Gymnastics & Swimming, Creative Crafts & Swim, as well as cooking classes, tap and ballet classes.

Pre-school mothers have the opportunity to participate in an exercise class on Tuesday and Thursday morning while their children are in class.

The Parent-Guppy/Toddler program for children 12 months to 4 years will familiarize the child with water and will provide an opportunity to learn basic swimming skills. A combination swim and gym program will also be available.

Offered for the first time with the spring term will be Baby & Me classes. An introductory aquatic experience for babies three months to one year and parent(s) through physical contact and adjustment skills. All classes are under the supervision of a qualified instructor.

Common Reed

Phragmites communis, also called common reed, is an abundant plant that grows 15 feet tall in wet areas along the East Coast. Where the flow of sea water into a salt marsh has been reduced (usually by roads and fill), phragmites will flourish. This plant has few pests or diseases and spreads over a large area in a short time, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

Instructional aquatic classes are also being offered to grammar school, junior high and senior high school students and adults. This program is designed to allow students to progress at their own rate and instruction will be with a minimum of talking and a maximum of swimming. Groupings are by ability, ranging from beginner through advanced swimmer.

Gymnastics will continue to be a substantial part of the "Y's" spring activities. Class instruction will include floor exercises, tumbling, rings, parallel bars, balance beam and pommel horse. After three developmental achievement levels, the program separates into interest categories for non-competitors, competitor and leadership training.

Live Y'sers, a day-camp type program for boys and girls in grades 1-6, will be offered Saturdays from 9-2 p.m. Activities will include crafts, games, swim and gym and much more.

Other programs included with the Youth Spring Term will be diving, competitive swim class, Basic Rescue & Water Safety, Advanced Lifesaving, Synchronized Swimming, tap dancing, ballet, karate, floor hockey, roller skating, archery, BB riflery, musica-drama, cake decorating, bake club, basic woodworking, horseback riding, Introduction to Frisbee and candy workshop.

Highlighting the Adult Spring Term will be Dance Aerobics. This program is especially designed for women to enhance cardiovascular fitness and combines the basic elements of a good fitness workout with the fun of dancing.

Tang Soo Do Karate, the ultimate in self defense, will be offered to men, women, and children from grade 6 and up. This family-oriented program strives to develop one as a person by means of mental and physical development. Instruction in self defense, sparring, forms and breaking techniques will be included in this year-round program where students may be promoted through the various belts. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7-9 p.m.

Other various fitness classes offered include the following: Y's Way to Physical Fitness, Y's Way to a Healthy Back, Aquatics, Fun and Fitness, Fitness for the Unfit, Yoga, Senior Citizens' Wednesday morning program, Men's Informal Basketball and Volleyball.

Adult special interest programs planned for the spring term include Puppy Kindergarten, Dog Obedience, Introduction to Basic Guitar, Introduction to Photography, Oil and Acrylic Painting, ceramics, CPR and horseback riding.

Additional information including a complete brochure covering all programs, times and fees may be obtained by contacting the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover Telephone 685-3541

"Keeping You In The Best Of Spirits"

You are invited to attend-free An Important Merrill Lynch seminar to help you save money on your 1980 and 1981 taxes.

Some of the tax-saving ideas you'll learn at our free seminar are simple (but you'd be shocked at how many investors overlook them). Some are complicated and require careful planning. Some apply to virtually all investors, while others apply only to those in special situations. Some are earmarked for investors of more modest means. Others, frankly, are for the rich. (But they're fascinating!) And, best of all, there are many ideas you can put to work right now in time to save money on your 1980 and 1981 taxes, and for many years to come.

One of the main topics at the seminar will be capital gains and losses and how to manage them for best tax results. You'll learn when to take gains or losses; differences between long-term vs. short-term; rates at which gains or losses are taxed; how to figure short and long-term gains and losses. And much more:

Trusts and custodial accounts. Custodial accounts and short-term Clifford Trusts can help provide for anything from a college education to support for elderly relatives. And you'll learn how these strategies can save taxes by using your relatives tax brackets instead of yours.

Tax investments. This is especially for investors in tax brackets above 49%. You'll learn how to use tax investments, or "shelters," to earn profits and establish tax losses and write-offs.

In addition to the topics covered at this seminar, you'll get a free booklet detailing ways to save on taxes in additional areas.

Just one of the many ideas you'll get at this seminar could save you thousands of tax dollars. The seminar is free, but space is limited. So reserve your seat today.

Susan Gerstberger

Tommy Sutton

Named To State Ski Team

Susan Gerstberger and Tommy Sutton, both of Andover and skiing for Crotched Mountain, were among 106 skiers from all over the Granite State competing in the Buddy Werner State Championships recently at Gunstock Ski Area.

Eleven year old Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gerstberger, won a second and a fourth on two of her slalom runs, which qualified her as one of the five girls in her division to make the New Hampshire Buddy Werner State Ski Team.

Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sutton, was selected first alternate in the boys 10 and 11-age division with his fourth and sixth place finishes.

Susan and Tommy, along with six other Crotched skiers who made the N.H. State Ski Team, will travel to Pat's Peak to race in the New England Regional Buddy Werner Thompson Trophy Championships. They will be racing against the best skiers from Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York State.

Once again the top five skiers in each age boy/girl division in this Regional Championship will be named to the Buddy Werner All-Star Team.

team turned in its best game in several weeks. The first period was scoreless with Andover holding a decided edge in play. Jeff McNeil, Timmy Donovan and Shannon McCabe combined on one of Andover's four lines and played very well against a much larger and more physical Ipswich squad. Andover's best chances in the early going came when this line was out with Paul Gilmartin and David Young on defense. They had no luck though and the middle period began with the score tied at 0-0.

The first period domination continued into the second period but the break did not come until nearly seven minutes had passed. Jamie O'Brien and Mark Neaves worked the puck out of their zone after Matt Shine and Earl Abdo broke up an Ipswich rush and took the play into the Ipswich zone. Stevie Donovan took the rebound of Mark's shot and snapped it home for the 1-0 lead. Cort Pomeroy, David Bartle and Mosa Kaleel then put several shots on Ipswich as the offensive pressure continued but the Ipswich goalie stopped everything.

Fifty-six seconds into the final period Stevie Donovan scored his second goal of the game to make it 2-0, again converting a nice setup by linemates Jamie O'Brien and Mark Neaves. The rest of the period saw several penalties and excellent defensive work by David Curtis and Georgie Heseltine as Andover held on for the victory. Andover's playoff games in Danvers begin on Thursday, April 9.

Registration For Junior Cheerleaders

The last day for registration for the fall cheerleading program of the Andover Junior Football League will be this Saturday, April 4, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the West Junior High cafeteria. This will be the final registration for the fall program.

Girls who will be 10 years old by Sept. 1, and who will be entering eighth grade in September are invited to register. A birth certificate is required and girls must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. A registration fee of $5 will be charged and will be refunded if an applicant is not placed on a team.

This year practices will be held twice a week in May and June, and then on a limited basis in September.

For more information, contact Bobby-Jo or Sally Morris at 6 Russett Lane.

Red Cross Instructor Course Set

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of the American Red Cross will sponsor a Water Safety Instructors' course at the Phillips Academy pool starting Tuesday, April 14. Classes will be held from 6:30-9:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Friday for five weeks.

All candidates must be at least 17 years of age, have a current Red Cross Advanced Lifesaving Certificate and Swimmer level skills. Registrations are now being accepted at the local Red Cross Chapter located in the United Fund Building, 430 North Canal St., Lawrence. Applications may be picked up at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

Instructor trainers Robert Bunting of Lawrence and Marilyn Fitzgerald of Andover note that all students must be pre-registered and have purchased books prior to the first class.

Pelc On Swim Team

Patricia Pelc, an Ithaca College physical therapy junior from Andover, was a member of the college's women's swimming team which broke five college records enroute to a second place finish at the New York State AIAW Championships held recently at the State University College at Cortland.

Pelc competed on the winning 200 free relay team, which missed setting a new college record by two hundredths of a second at the State Meet. Her own record in the 500 yard freestyle was beaten by a new record at the meet.

Patricia, a 1978 graduate of Andover High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Pelc, 8 Carmel Road.

Wrestling For Boys

The Greater Lawrence YMCA announces the start of a new class for boys in grades 6 to 12. The class is a combination wrestling and weight lifting program for both current wrestlers and those interested in becoming wrestlers. This complete program includes a weight lifting session that will be supervised and includes instruction and time for a workout. The course will be taught by an experienced varsity wrestler who also has varsity coaching experience.

The class will run on Tuesday, 3 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday mornings from 10:30 a.m. to 12. Non-members as well as members are welcome.

Registrations will be accepted from April 6 to 11 in the Youth Lobby, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Program For Women

The Boston College Program For Women in Political and Governmental Careers offers wine and cheese at one of their free open houses, April 14 or May 5, at 7:30 p.m. Successfully elected and employed program graduates will be on hand to discuss their experiences.

The open houses will take place on the Boston College and Law School campus in Newton.

Cited

The National Easter Seal Society has cited the efforts of the Friendly restaurant on North Main Street in Andover for its successful "Cones for Kids" program held recently.

On being notified that the restaurant had received this citation, manager Michael J. Bouley responded that he was very pleased and commented, "The achievement was the result of the cooperation of hundreds of loyal customers and the total commitment of all of the employees."

Friendly's involvement with Easter Seals will be highlighted on national television during the Easter Seal Society's Telethon which will be hosted by Pat Boone.

inadequate notice of the March 15 termination date — and even less notice of the extension.

He added that train service has not been resumed long enough or marketed sufficiently to achieve its full potential ridership, noting that ridership has increased "steadily and dramatically" in recent months.

"Commuting to Boston by car is no longer economically feasible by even the simplest standards of gas and parking prices," Zollner told the board. "It's not a question of an alternative to the automobile — it's a question of alternatives. Your constituents will be driving less and less, and they will need both the rail and the bus."

The manager explained that the "real cost" of a train ride to Boston is $12 one way, and that "tax dollars pay the cost of rail service — not user fees." That was the reason, "plain and simple," that he wanted Andover to pull out of commuter rail service, Clark said.

Selectman Edward Harris said, "Personally I feel very sympathetic toward rail transportation. But when it gets down to brass tacks, motivation cannot be translated into dollars and cents. We have the problem of limiting expenditures of the public funds."

One commuter, Eric Neunzer of Stevens Street, said he believes the governor may take steps to help fund commuter rail.

"I wish I could be as optimistic as you are that the governor is going to do anything," Selectman Jerry Silverman responded. "I think the feeling of the board is that we would love to maintain trains to Boston — there's never been any question of interest — it's a question of how much is it going to cost us?"

"I only wish that all those commuter rail people might have voted no on 2 1/2," he added.

School

also be a major consideration, as the school committee moves to trim its proposed budget by $1,175,000.

Seifert said the whole transportation system is likely to change, and that he will be proposing changes in the contractual arrangement with the bus drivers.

A school closing and a two-mile limit would mean fewer buses and longer routes, Seifert said, and he anticipates going out to bid on all the routes for next year, even though some of the drivers have time remaining on their contracts.

He said there is a termination clause in the contracts, and that "It really isn't that the school committee is unilaterally cutting back on routes. Proposition 2½ has simply thrown everything into disarray."

Just how many of the present 25 or 26 routes will be eliminated will depend on what school is closed, Seifert said.

One of the changes being considered, Seifert said, is a return to the "old routine" that no bus should be more than five years old.

He said that deterioration of buses has created some problems, whereas "we used to have in Andover a fleet of new and shiny buses." He said recent policy has been merely that the buses be kept "in good order," but that the average bus now on the road was built in 1972.

"That's an old fleet," Seifert said.

Seifert said he will also be presenting a variety of school calendars for next year on Tuesday night, though there aren't any radical changes in store.

He said proposals include starting school before Labor Day, larger blocks of time off in the winter to save fuel, a long March vacation instead of the February and April ones, and four-day weeks.

He said the Greater Lawrence superintendents will be working together on the possibility of more radical calendar changes for the future.

Digital

Digital is attracted to the site — the only suitable site in Andover. Krasnow said — because it is close to Route 93 and offers quick access to Logan Airport. "The company prides itself on virtually guaranteeing delivery of spare parts in 24 hours," he explained.

But the company's plans also call for building a $250,000 sewage pumping station to service the site — a violation of the town's master sewer plan. That plan, adopted by town meeting at a cost of $500,000, does not include the Frontage Road site in the area the town could potentially sewer.

If an exception is made and Digital is allowed to build its own pumping station, other property owners would then have to be granted the same right. Private pumping stations could overtax the town's Riverina Road pumping station, the town manager said Friday.

"I feel very strongly that the town should not violate its master sewer plan by permitting the pumping station," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained. "The master sewer plan is town policy — and encouraging industrial development is also town policy. The two policies conflict in this case."

The manager told the selectmen Monday night that "if you deviate from the policy on pumping stations, you've killed the master sewer plan."

Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the Industrial Development Commission, said the Digital plan brings up "a funny kind of issue. I can see the advantages and the disadvantages. From an industrial point of view, this is probably the best use for the site."

Spiegel added that the remaining 95 acres at the site would also be rezoned for industrial use, and would probably be developed with two other plants. "It would be a great revenue generator — we can use the income," he commented. "It's a nice opportunity."

Planning Board Chairman Frank McBride indicated that the town should also compare the impact of the Digital plant to the impact 140 single-family homes — which would be allowed under the current zoning — would have on the town.

Selectman Susan Poore pointed out that allowing Digital to violate the sewer plan is "a legal question," and instructed the town manager to obtain an opinion from Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold.

Poore also said that rezoning the "massive piece of land" would create "an industrial strip along Route 93."

However, before taking a position she requested more "feedback" from the planners, as well as more information from Digital on how they might avoid building a pumping station.

"If we thought you were going to sewer on site," she told Krasnow, "approval for rezoning might be more easily gained."

Vice Chairman Jerry Silverman, who chaired the discussion after Chairman Norma Gammon chose not to participate due to possible conflict of interest, said, "I don't feel negative about it, if things can be worked out."

"We welcome them to the town," added Selectman Edward Harris, "but the way they're proposing it makes a problem we have to face up to."

tougher." It is his opinion, Kear said, that few developers will be eager to build townhouses in Andover because the bylaw is too restrictive.

Andover builder Jack Fulton of Wynwood Associates agreed Wynwood last fall had hoped to build townhouses on an Andover Street parcel owned by former selectman Sidney P. White, but a multi-family bylaw proposed by White failed to win special town meeting approval last November.

"You guys have put in a lot of time," Fulton told the board, "and you're coming up with something that is just about unusable. I don't think too many people will show up with plans — if you make the path so complicated and involved, who wants to try it?"

He added that unless the planners allowed increased density, developers could not build affordable housing: "You're pricing the older people and young people right out of town," Fulton warned.

The planners will meet tonight to discuss the issues that were raised Tuesday night and possibly revise some parts of the amendment. The first meeting was held as "a courtesy" to townspeople, McBride said, to offer residents a chance to have some input into the amendment.

When formal public hearings are held prior to town meeting, the planners intend to "defend our positions," he added.

Parker Brothers

"Games from the Collection of Parker Brothers," a collection of 190 board games from 1883 to the present, is a special exhibit at the Children's Museum through next fall. The museum, 300 Congress St., is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10 to 5; Fridays till 9.

Eliminating All Aides Not Considered

A resident's proposal to eliminate all school aides in order to keep more teachers has not been entertained "seriously" by the administration. Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said this week.

The possibility was raised by Bob Friedenson of 9 Wildrose Drive during budget discussions at last Tuesday's school committee meeting.

The administration had already listed 11 aides, for a total of $68,900, among the possible cuts for next year.

The total aide budget, the administration said then, is $422,465.

It was Friedenson's suggestion that the remaining $354,465 in the aide budget would keep 16 or so teachers—the number of elementary school faculty that may also be cut next year.

Seifert said this week that "you can reduce the aides and ask the teachers to go back to doing the kinds of things that aides do...the procedural and clerical things such as taking lunch money."

"But," he said, "it doesn't make sense from an instructional standpoint."

He said those duties take a lot of time and that he couldn't recommend asking a teacher to do them at $10 or $11 an hour, while aides make $3.35 to $4.17 an hour.

Furthermore, Seifert said, doing away with aides would mean a more structured environment and a return to more text books. He said any money saved would have to be put back in the budget for books for next year "because the present system couldn't be maintained."

One of the mothers at last week's public meeting said she had just moved from a school system in New York where the aides were volunteers.

Seifert said Andover had had a volunteer set up a few years ago.

"It's a great idea. I'd love to have it," he said, but asked what to do when a volunteer doesn't show up. Volunteers don't have ready substitutes, he said, and added that such a system "isn't fair to the children."

"I wish," Seifert concluded last week, "that I could state the number of aides who are actually handled by teachers themselves."

Bats 'N Balls Vs. Bugles Battle Again

By Linda S. Corbett

For Dick Benson, 9 Timothy Drive, last week's school committee hearing on possible budget cuts was "back to the old game of pitting parent against parent," athlete against musician, and so on.

"I'm getting tired of it," said Benson, 9 Timothy Drive, of his "annual" trip to the committee, and he drew applause for concluding that "We must stay together, both academically and athletically."

Benson had asked the committee, as it considers cutting the athletic budget by $100,000, to make a proportionate reduction in all sports, including "the annual and perennial winners" such as football. (The proposal before the committee, as it prepares to cut its 1981-82 budget by more than a million dollars, includes the actual elimination of some interscholastic sports, such as wrestling, indoor track, skiing, swimming, tennis, golf, volleyball and hockey, as well as the 8th grade and 10th grade programs.)

He also asked for a proportionate reduction in girls and boys sports.

The athletic program, Benson went on, gives the youngsters who perform a sense of satisfaction, and offers them a chance to develop "character" and "stamina" that will "carry them through the rest of their lives."

Sam Concerni, 22 Launching Road, maintained that the "victims" in the cuts being proposed are the participants in the minor sports, and the ones the administration had referred to as "lifetime sports." Among them, he said, would be the third best athlete in his sport in the state, skier Bob Faigle, and the girls tennis team, which went undefeated last season.

Wrestling, Concerni said, is the only sport he knows of where participants are matched by their size. The major expense in wrestling, he said, is in the mat, "and we already own that."

School Committee Chairman Joe Finn said that the sports listed for possible elimination are the ones that have been so-tagged by the athletic directors in the Merrimack Valley. They have been meeting, Athletic Director Dick Swift had said earlier, to come to agreement on what sports to drop. There would be no point in continuing a sport, Swift had said, if the other towns withdraw from competition.

Alex Milne of Summer Street spoke up as a member of Andover's Hat Trick Club. "We will stand ready to see that the kids get to the (hockey) games," he said.

The possible elimination of two instrumental music teachers in turn drew some fire from music parents.

Alan Pratt, 26 Enfield Drive, questioned a "50 percent reduction" in instrumental music, which would mean the end of secondary school group lessons as well as fewer and larger group lessons at the elementary level and a reduced level of the secondary school orchestra and bands.

The orchestra, Pratt said, "does not have a parallel in the private sector as sports do."

"It is difficult," he added, "for parents to run a band."

Kim Olson of 4 Farrwood Drive, an 8th grader at East Jr. High and the only student to speak up during the evening, said she would be "directly affected" by cuts in the band and orchestra.

She said she could take private lessons, but that she wouldn't have the opportunity to play in a group and enter competitions with the marching band unit.

Her mother, Ethel Olson, noted that the junior high instrumental program is part of a feeder system which starts in the elementary schools. She suggested that they charge for the elementary lessons, so they could keep the secondary ones.

At the secondary level, she went on, the music groups pay their own way in kind by performing musicals and giving concerts for the community.

Participants in the marching band also earn a credit, she concluded. "Nothing else that earns a credit is charged a user fee."

LOOK WHO FOUND THEIR DREAM HOME . . .

-Happy Homeowner, Leonor Devitto and her daughter Jennifer are shown in front of their Johnson built home on Penni Lane in Andover, along with Foster & Foster Sales Agent, Patty Cadwgan.

Finding a home is no easy task. Ask Mike and Leonor DeVitto who recently found their dream home right here in Andover. The DeVittos fell in love with the land around Penni Lane almost two years ago but never considered building until they stepped into the model home constructed by builder, Joe Johnson. "We were immediately impressed by the quality of construction and the attention to detail," remembers Leonor DeVitto. "With the help of our Foster & Foster agent and with the cooperation of Mr. Johnson were able to custom build a beautiful colonial home — a real dream come true."

TWO PLUS TWO EQUALS FIVE

For those of you inclined toward investing in residential income property, the question arises: "Should I start with two duplexes or one four-unit apartment house?"

Naturally, I am using minimum numbers, but the principle is the same. You will be better off financially with the most number of units in a building that you can afford rather than two separate buildings of half the number of units. The economic reason are obvious. One lot, one tax bill, one oil tank, one boiler, one basic plumbing system and electrical system. True, these costs are larger for larger buildings, but the cost per unit decreases in direct proportion to the number of units.

Consequently, if you buy for a minimum cash down, the greatest number of units you can get for your money, the better off you will be financially when you get to the bottom line of the income statement. Plus a real estate investment is the best hedge against inflation there is.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Elderly Concerned About Condos

With the deadline for inserting articles onto the annual town warrant less than 10 days away, town officials have yet to compose a bylaw dealing with condominium conversions — and some of Andover's elderly citizens are worried.

Planning Board members appeared before the selectmen Monday night to outline their proposed multiple-family housing amendment to the zoning bylaw, which will be presented to town meeting voters next month.

The proposed amendment does not deal with the possibility of current apartments being converted to condominiums, a growing trend that has many of the town's senior citizens concerned about the future of their homes. Few elderly tenants can afford to buy converted units, and apartments are hard to come by.

"I'm really surprised that you folks haven't taken up condominium conversion," Council on Aging Chairman Thomas Powers told planning board chairman Frank McBride Monday night at town hall. "This is a great threat to the senior citizens of Andover, and I am surprised that nothing more has been said about it."

Powers said that elderly residents call the senior center about the problem regularly, many of them "aroused and shook up."

McBride replied that the planners were hard pressed to deliver the multi-family amendment in time for town meeting, and simply did not have enough time to deal with conversions as well. He added that no citizens have contacted the planning board about the matter.

However, the planners "have not forgotten conversions," McBride said. "We have had several proposals, but we've been told that they are at least one-and-a-half to two years away."

Council on Aging representatives appeared before the selectmen on Jan. 5 to request that Andover develop a bylaw to protect apartment dwellers from conversions.

Several Massachusetts communities have recently adopted such bylaws, which in some cases require building owners to give tenants at least one year's notice before forcing them to leave. A Cambridge bylaw states that owners may not convert rental units until their tenants choose to leave.

At that January meeting, the selectmen promised to study the Cambridge and Brookline bylaws, and possibly model an Andover bylaw after those court-tested examples.

The board, however, has taken no action on the subject to date. "This is something we do have to get at," Selectman Edward Harris told Powers. Chairman Norma Gammon indicated that former chairman James Abramson, who did not run for re-election, thought the issue should wait until after the town election, when a new board would be formed.

The selectmen appeared confident that they will have a bylaw ready in time for the upcoming town meeting. Selectman Jerry Silverman pointed out that the preliminary work has already been done by other communities, and that the board must merely adapt the existing bylaws to Andover's needs.

"In God We Trust" did not become the official motto of the United States until 1956.

We Have Kosher Foods For Passover

At Towne Deli we have a Passover Grocery Department, with a huge assortment of Passover foods, bakery mixes and, of course, Matzos.

So while you're busy and on-the-go preparing for the Passover Holidays, make Towne Deli your first stop.

Towne Deli is a favorite stop for so many people, for so many reasons. Reasons like breakfasttime, lunchtime, and suppertime — our Deli counter and delicious party platters, and at this time of year, Passover and Lent.

FRIDAY is FISH DAY at Towne Deli — the day we fry up tender, sweet, Ipswich Clams for our Clam Platters; bake to perfection, ocean fresh haddock for our Haddock Dinners, and feature our Delicious Crabmeat Sandwiches.

At Towne Deli, we don't make all the friends we do, serving just Deli alone!
